—One span of the railroad bridge one hundred and eighty feet long over the Tennessee river at London was blown down Saturday.

—Lord Derby to-day will endeavor to answer the awkward questions put to him by an indignant nation on the Eastern affair.

—Boarding-house keepers complain that parties returning from the country insist upon engaging winter board at summer prices.

—The religious newspapers complain that an infidel club has been organized among the students of Amherst College, under the wing of orthodoxy.

—A Cambridge, Massachusetts, girl kept the company waiting for the wedding till she made the groom sign a written agreement to take her to the Centennial.

—The spirit of the Baltimore rough of the early days of the war still lives, and was made manifest on Saturday night. A little shot-gun medicine might be judicious in that direction.

—Provisions are reported scarce in the Fiji Islands, and there is much suffering in consequence. We must send those benighted people more Bibles and missionaries—especially missionaries.

—Professor Huxley is at present endeavoring to discover some connection between the theory of evolution and the fact that when a man gets rich in the petroleum trade, he generally develops a taste for oil paintings.

—September has come and the Centennial traveler swarms like the locust in Egypt. You see him everywhere—on the streets, the cars and the ferry boats—eyes and ears and mouth wide open, and evidently determined to have his money's worth.

—Talking about the wonders of agriculture, an up-town saloonist raised three beats in fifteen minutes, the three weighing in the aggregate four hundred and fifty pounds. They were dead-beats, and he "raised" them with his boot.—Norristown Herald.

—It is said that the Servian officers are so deeply impressed with the reports they have heard of the Turkish atrocities that they always endeavor to reserve one ball in their revolvers so as to blow their own brains out as soon as they fall into the hands of the enemy.

—The man who heard that mechanics' wages were lower has just got his bills from a plasterer and plumber for a two days' repairing job, and now he is visiting various newspaper offices with a big stick under his arm, inquiring for "the feller that got up them tables of figgers."

Signs of the times. W. B. Clarke, a New York broker, who recently failed, on Saturday notified the Stock Exchange that he was ready to pay all demands in full.—The Belknap Mills at Laconia, N. H., which have been idle for three years, are being repaired, to start up under the name of the Laconia Mills.

—Ex-Gov. Wise, of West Virginia, still lies at the point of death, and has surrendered all hopes of recovery. He suffers excruciating pain at times, but he endures it with marvelous patience and firmness. His mind continues clear and strong, though he is physically so weak as to be incapable of the least exertion.

—"Yes," he observed, musingly, "yes, business is looking up, that's a fact. A fellow came in and paid me a quarter he owed me this morning, and the chances are good for selling my dog this afternoon. Oh, yes, things are brightening up visibly," and he went over and got trusted for three twenty-five-cent cigars, straight off.—New York Commercial.

—"Why," exclaims an eloquent and cultured Democratic orator, "why should the proud soil of Iowa be polluted with Republican processions when eggs are only eleven cents a dozen, and nearly half of 'em are sure to be bad?" And thus the noble example of the Ku Klux and White Leaguers is emulated by their humbler dirtier brethren up north, the knights of the bad egg.

—The grain carriage over the Wabash Railroad during August was the heaviest ever known in the history of the road, an average of 200 car loads of grain being received daily at the elevators in Toledo. The total number of cars during the month was 5,600, measuring about 34 miles in length, and bringing 2,100,000 bushels of grain—the estimated production of 60,000 acres—valued at $1,008,000.

—The fashionable young men of Newport were amazed to see Lord Randolph Churchill wear a velvet coat at a 3 o'clock dinner. He associates with the Prince of Wales, and what he does in the way of dress must be correct. Lady Churchill, it will be remembered, is a daughter of Mr. Leonard Jerome. She is now the most-admired women in Newport, having enjoyed the distinction of receiving a kiss from the Queen of England.

—"See that! see that!" exclaimed an anxious-looking man as he grasped a policeman's arm on the base ball grounds one day last week. "Wh—what?" said the bluecoat. "Why, that fellow stealing there—stealing—" "No; wh—where?" demanded the officer, as he grabbed his club and danced around. "Why, there"—exclaimed the citizen, pointing to the grounds—"that player there—stealing a base!" The policeman gave the fellow a withering look and then wilted.

—The International Medical Congress, composed of some of the ablest members of the profession in Europe and America, put a feather into the cap of the temperance people, by the adoption of a report from a special Section to whom the matter was referred, setting forth that, first—Alcohol is not shown to have a definite food value by any of the usual methods of chemical analysis or physiological investigation. Second—Its use as a medicine is chiefly that of a cardiac stimulant, and often admits of substitution.

—Some of the New York papers have been canvassing the city in a desultory sort of a way with a view of ascertaining the general trade outlook; and it is gratifying to note how uniformly sanguine are the views of those who have been consulted. The hotels are full, the wholesale houses are taking large orders and the retail shops are crowded with customers. In Philadelphia the outward evidences of prosperity are equally satisfactory, and it is hard to believe the croakers are right who sit complaining that there is no sunlight ahead.

—A sporting judge is of use in more ways than one. Recorder Hackett, of New York, added to his other sound decisions one upon guns, the other day, which bore against a prisoner who pleaded that the shot-gun, with which he had shot some children, went off from a blow against the window sill. The Recorder examined the gun, declared it impossible, and offered to let the prisoner try it in that way against him with a double charge in it. The jury was convinced by the judge, as an expert as well as judicially, and the sentence was a year's imprisonment.

—"Why," asked a pensive looking stranger, contemplating the Division street improvement, of a brisk young Burlington man, "Why do they change the grade?" "Because," replied the brisk y. m. of B., "the Council agrade to the change." And his lithe form went hobling down the hill-side like a bright mote in the sunshine, a bit of cheery life, a glint of heavenly color upon the sterile landscape, while the pensive stranger clasped his hands across his dumpling depot and wished that Heaven had made him aye and always young. What ho, without there. Put more ice on the fire.—Burlington Hawkeye.

—Some comfort is afforded the Department clerks at Washington who, under the new laws, are to be dismissed the service, in the reflection that their present loss must be for them an enduring gain. The Washington Republican does not probably overstate the truth when it says: "Three years of Capital life, away from the wholesome restraints and virtuous influences and surroundings of home, are pretty sure to 'finish' the average Department clerk. After that he may either be considered a worthless, fast young man or a settled machine, fully satisfied with his position in life, without aspiration to any higher objective point than that of drawing his salary regularly at the end of each calendar month.

THE INDIAN COUNCIL.

The First Conference at the Red Cloud Agency.

Liberal Propositions Submitted by the Commissioners.

RED CLOUD AGENCY, NEB., September 8, VIA FORT LARAMIE, WY., September 9.—The Indian Commission, which arrived here on Wednesday, held their first council here yesterday afternoon. About one hundred and fifty Indians, including Red Cloud, Red Dog, Old-Man-Afraid-of-His-Horses, and his son Sitting Bull, of the Ogallalla Sioux, being present. In conversation with a member of the commission before the council, the Indians expressed joy at their arrival, some of them saying to Dr. Daniels, of the commission, their old agent: "I shall die, my father, if you don't take pity on me." The Indians are in an excellent mood for a treaty. At the council Bill Garnett, Bill Rowland, Leon Palloredy and Todd Randall acted as assistant interpreters to Rev. Henman. Bishop Whipple offered a prayer.

The Commissioners' Propositions.

Then the following propositions were read by Col. Manypenny, chairman, and interpreted to the Indians:

First. They shall relinquish all claims to that part of their reservation lying west of the 103d meridian, and that the western boundary of said reservation shall commence at the intersection of the 103d meridian with the northern boundary of Nebraska; thence northerly along said meridian to its intersection with the south fork of the Cheyenne river; thence down said stream to its intersection with the north fork; thence up the north fork of the Cheyenne river to said 103d meridian; thence north along said meridian to the south branch of the Cannon Ball river, or Cedar creek; thence down said stream to the Missouri river, and also relinquish all claim to all the country outside the present limits of their reservation, and that article 16 of the treaty of 1868 is hereby abrogated.

Second. They shall grant the right of way over the reservation for wagon and other roads from convenient and accessible points on the Missouri river to that portion of the reservation which is to be ceded, not more than three in number, to be designated hereafter by the President of the United States, and they shall permit the construction and free, unobstructed use of said roads, and the free navigation of the Missouri river.

Third. They shall receive all annuities provided by treaty, and all subsistence supplies which may be provided for them at such points and places on said reservation and in the vicinity of the Missouri river, as the President may designate.

Fourth. And whereas as Congress has provided by law that no appropriation shall be made hereafter for said Indians until some plan shall have been devised which shall look to their becoming self-supporting, and whereas as there is no country within the limits of the present reservation suited for such purpose, and whereas it is the design of the President of the United States to aid in the fullest manner possible for their progress in civilization, therefore said Indians shall agree to submit themselves to such beneficent plans as the Government may provide for them in the selection of a country suitable for a permanent home, where they may live like white men. The President believes the only country where they can hope for permanent improvement is in the Indian Territory. Inasmuch as the removal of the Indians to the Missouri river will necessarily be temporary, if they shall agree to go directly to the Indian Territory next season, they shall be permitted to remain at the agency until that time; but before any such removal from their reservation they may select a delegation of five or more from each band to visit the country proposed for their future home, and thus satisfy themselves of its desirability.

Fifth. In consideration for their compliance with the foregoing propositions submitted by authority of the President and Congress, it is proposed that the Government of the United States shall provide all necessary aid to assist in the work of civilization, and shall furnish to them schools and teach them mechanical and agricultural arts, as provided for by treaty, and also shall provide subsistence, consisting of a ration for each individual of a pound and a half of beef, half a pound of flour, half a pound of corn, and for every hundred rations four pounds of coffee, eight pounds of sugar, three pounds of beans, ten pounds of pork, or their equivalent, or so much of said ration as may be necessary, until said Indians are self-supporting, such rations in all cases to be given to the head of each separate family; and whenever the Government shall have provided schools on their permanent reservation no children between the ages of six and fourteen years shall draw rations unless they regularly attend school, sick and infirm children excepted; and whenever said Indians are located on lands suitable for cultivation, rations shall be issued only to the families of those who labor, the aged, sick and infirm excepted. And as an incentive to industrious habits, the Commissioner of Indian Affairs may provide that they shall be furnished in payment of their labor such other articles as are necessary for civilized life. The Government will aid them as far as possible, finding a market for surplus productions and in finding employment; shall purchase such surplus as may be required for supplying food to those Indians who are unable to sustain themselves; shall also employ Indians as far as practicable in the performance of Government work on their reservation.

Sixth. Whenever the head of a family shall in good faith select an allotment of land, and engage in the cultivation thereof, the Government shall, with his aid, erect a comfortable house thereon, and if said Indians shall remove to such place as shall be designated by the Government as their future home within three years, the Government offers to provide the principal chief a good dwelling house, and to improve the morals and industrious habits of said Indians, the agent, farmer, carpenter, blacksmith, and other artisans employed or permitted to reside within the reservation belonging to the Indians parties to this treaty, shall be lawfully married and living with their respective families on said reservation, and no person other than an Indian full blood, whose fitness morally or otherwise is not conducive to the welfare of said Indians, shall receive any benefit from this or former treaties, and may be expelled from the reservation.

Eighth. The provisions of the treaty, except as herein modified, shall continue in full force and apply to any country which may be hereafter occupied by said Indians as a home, and Congress shall secure to them an orderly government. They shall be subject to the laws of the United States, and each individual shall be protected in his rights, property, person and life.

Ninth. The Indians shall solemnly pledge themselves individually and collectively to observe each and all the stipulations aforesaid, to select allotments of land as soon as possible after removal to the permanent reservation, and use their best efforts to learn to cultivate the same, and they do solemnly pledge themselves they will at all times maintain peace with the Government and citizens of the United States, and loyally endeavor to fulfill all the obligations assumed by them under the treaty and the present agreement, and to this end will, at the request of the President, select so many suitable men from each tribe to co-operate with him in maintaining order and peace on the reservations as he may deem necessary, who shall receive such compensation as Congress may provide.

Tenth. In order that the Government may faithfully fulfill the stipulations contained in this agreement for the benefit of said Indians, it is mutually agreed that a census shall be taken in December of each year, and the names of each head of a family and adult person. No agreement concurred in by the contracting parties will be binding upon either party until approved by the President and Congress.

At the conclusion of the reading of the propositions Bishop Whipple addressed the Indians at some length, and was followed by Col. A. G. Boone. The commission having announced to Red Cloud that rations for a feast would be issued, Red Cloud asked that they be given there at once, and asked for six beeves, ten pounds of sugar, and five pounds of coffee for each of the six bands present. The order was given and the council ended, after the Indians being notified that the commission had no time to lose.

The Republican Victory in Vermont.

BOSTON, September 9.—A carefully revised summary of the Gubernatorial vote in Vermont gives Fairbanks 28,732 majority.

THE SPORTING WORLD.

The Turf.

SPRINGFIELD, MASS., September 9.—The rain yesterday at Hampden Park got its work in well. It not only prevented the races, but prevented the association from coming out ahead financially. There was this double compensation, however, the first steeple chase in New England took place to-day, and the crowd was highly amused. All the horses engaged—five—bolting the course at some point or other. The result, however, was: Derby, 1; Stanford, 2; Weasel, 3; Lorent and Bill Munday not placed. Time 5:25.

International Regatta.

PHILADELPHIA, September 9.—The International regatta on the Schuylkill was brought to a close by several tub races and a mile and a half race between two crews from the United States man-of-war Hartford. The Halifax crew entered the contest against the Thames crew, getting the first prize.

The Honorary Committee of the regatta decided that under the decision of the umpire they had no option in the payment of prizes, but expressed the unanimous opinion that the honors of the International four oared professional race belong to the Halifax crew.

ANOTHER POLITICAL RIOT.

A Hayes and Wheeler Meeting Broken Up in Baltimore by Democratic Roughs — One of the Speakers Severely Beaten.

BALTIMORE, MD., September 10.—A Hayes and Wheeler meeting at the Cross street market house was broken up last night by roughs. Several shots were fired, and Wm. Henry was wounded. C. Irving Delty, who was addressing the meeting at the moment of the outbreak, was badly beaten about the head and face. Within a few moments after the first shot the hall was emptied of occupants, many of those present jumping out of windows on an adjoining shed. The rioters were promptly arrested by the police, several of whom were in the hall and outside. Marshal Gray states that yesterday being election day at the Democratic primaries, he had given orders to the captains of police to have an extra force of men attend all political meetings last night. In obedience to this order about one dozen men were at the meeting at the Cross street market house within a minute after the second shot was fired. The man firing it was in the hands of the police this morning. The rioters were bailed, but were rearrested, and are in jail, and warrants have been issued for the roughs not captured. The matter has been before the Grand Jury to-day, and the authorities declare themselves determined that the rioters shall not escape punishment. The roughs do not exceed ten in number.

WASHINGTON TOPICS.

The Reported Mutiny.

No information has been received at the Navy Department in regard to the reported mutiny on board the United States steamer Franklin at Leghorn on the 8th inst. On the contrary, the department has a dispatch from Rear Admiral Worden, on board the Franklin, dated Spezia, September 8th, showing the vessel was at that place, instead of at Leghorn. Officials of the Navy Department are inclined to doubt the truthfulness of the telegram in the Paris Figaro.

Treaty Ratification.

The President has issued a proclamation ratifying the treaty between the United States of America and the King of the Hawaiian Islands.

Fire Near the Centennial Exposition.

PHILADELPHIA, September 9.—At half past four this afternoon a fire broke out in Murphey's oyster saloon, on Elm avenue, opposite the Main Exhibition building, and before it was extinguished communicated to and destroyed property to the value of $80,000. The flames spread east, west and south, consuming the entire lot of buildings on Elm avenue from the Trans-Continental Hotel to the Ross House, about twenty in all, including several variety shows, beer gardens, restaurants, etc. These structures were all frame, one, two and three stories high. The fire spread back from Elm to Columbia avenue, taking in all intervening property, including the New England Hotel, a boarding house, ice cream saloon and restaurant, all two story buildings. The wildest excitement prevailed, both in and outside the Centennial grounds. People flocked to the scene of the fire by thousands, and it is estimated that there were at least 60,000 persons in the immediate vicinity. The Trans-Continental Hotel caught fire on the roof four different times, but the flames were immediately extinguished. So intense was the heat that it scorched the paint on the turn stiles at the entrance gates to the Exhibition, requiring a stream to be played upon them, and upon the southern side of the Main Exhibition building. A man is in custody on suspicion of having caused the fire. The Ross House was damaged $20,000, and by the destruction of the New England House a loss of $15,000 was sustained. The individual losses range from $1,000 to $16,000.

The Cotton Crop.

NASHVILLE, September 9.—The committee's report to the Nashville department of the National Cotton Exchange for the month of August states that the weather was more favorable than in the same time last year. Eighteen counties report not fruiting well, twelve moderately well, twenty-four fruiting well, and twenty-two complain of shedding. Twenty-five counties report a good condition of the crop, fifteen moderate, fourteen unfavorable, thirteen worse than last year, seven about equal, and thirty-four more favorable. Picking commenced in forty-three counties, and will become general from the 15th to the 20th of September. There is no damage from worms, but a few report light damage by grasshoppers, excessive weeds and scarcity of fruit on new cotton land, while old and upland show a prospect for an average crop.

The Fatal Prize Fight Case.

PHILADELPHIA, September 9. — This morning, in the Court of Quarter Sessions, Judge Elcock on the bench, the cases of the tugboat masters, James P. Stebons, Patrick McCarthy, Jno. Scully and George Whalon, charged with being accessories to the killing of Philip Koster in the prize fight in New Jersey, which occurred last week, came up on a writ of habeas corpus for a final hearing. A communication was read from Gov. Hartranft to the District Attorney, requesting that further proceedings in the cases might be postponed a week, in order that the Governor might have an opportunity of investigating the matter more fully. A postponement was ordered accordingly.

The International Medical Congress.

PHILADELPHIA, September 9.—At to-day's session of the International Medical Congress Prof. Nathan S. Davis, M. D., of Chicago, delivered an address on "Medical Education and Medical Institutions." Delegates from Great Britain and Canada presented papers, congratulating the President and officers for the success of the Congress, on the high value of the various papers presented, and on the impulse it has given to the progress of medicine. The convention then adjourned sine die.

Reduction in Centennial Railway Fares.

NEW YORK, September 9.—The railroad ticket agents, in convention to-day, made a reduction of ten per cent. on the present rates on Centennial tickets to New York and Philadelphia from all points west of Chicago and St. Louis. This makes in all a reduction of thirty-five per cent. from regular rates.

SECOND EDITION

NEWS FROM ABROAD.

Turks Defeated in a Battle with Montenegrins.

Address by Gladstone on the Eastern Question.

"BOSS" TWEED CAUGHT AT LAST.

SPAIN.

LONDON, September 10. — A dispatch from Vigo states that on Wednesday, the 6th inst., on the arrival of the Spanish bark Carmen at the quarantine harbor of San Simon Vezs from Santiago de Cuba, the Governor of the province of Pontevedra boarded her. The Governor was accompanied by some of the secret police and inquired for two of the passengers. He ordered their detention. Having consulted some photographs he arrested them. Escorted by a detachment of police, the prisoners were sent to Corunna, whence they will be transferred to Havana on the Spanish mail steamer leaving on the 21st. On their arrival at Havana they will be handed over to the American authorities. Their baggage has been sealed and goes with them. It is believed here that the two prisoners are Wm. M. Tweed and his Secretary.

MADRID, September 10.—It was found in July that Tweed was in Santiago De Cuba, having passed there from Havana. Gen. Jovellar was applied to by the American Consul to have Tweed secured and sent to the United States. Gen. Jovellar was quite willing, even in the absence of an extradition treaty, to oblige the American Government in return for their courtesy in the Argreeles case some years ago. Tweed, however, was apprised in Santiago of his impending danger, and sailed for Vigo, Spain, on July 27, on board the sailing vessel Carmen. Mr. Cushing thereupon notified the Spanish Government of the fact, and found them willing to arrest Tweed and return him to Cuba or deliver him up to the American Consul. Every precaution was taken by the Spanish Government to secure Tweed's arrest in any part of Spain or on any coast line by which he might arrive. Severe orders were given to the local authorities, especially those of Vigo and the Salician coast. On September 6th the Carmen hove in sight off Vigo, and was immediately boarded by the Governor of Pontevedra. The Governor at once recognized Tweed from photographs which he has had in his possession for some time previous to the arrival of the fugitive. Tweed was entered on the ship's papers under the name of Secor, and was accompanied by a man giving his name as Wm. Hunt, who is said to be his nephew. Both were immediately secured and thrown into the calaboose, under a strong guard, but were subsequently transferred by order to a fortress in Vigo, under command of the Captain General.

The First Secretary of the American legation has requested the extradition of Tweed, and he will consequently be handed over to the American authorities.

LONDON, September 11.—A special from Burgos to the Daily News states that Mr. Adu, Charge d'Affaire of the United States in the absence of Minister Cushing, has visited the Spanish minister of Foreign Affairs at La Granga, and arranged for the surrender of Tweed to the American Government.

TURKEY.

CETTINGE, September 9.—Dervish Pasha's attack in the southeast on Wednesday was made by several columns, which crossed the Zelta and Moratscha, where they were repulsed. A portion of the Turks were cut off from the fords. They were driven into an angle between the two rivers and pushed into the Moratscha, which runs between perpendicular rocky banks. The Turkish artillery was ineffectual to check the pursuit, and the slaughter was great. Eight hundred Turks were left dead on the field and upwards of a thousand were drowned. The Montenegrins lost three hundred killed and wounded.

VIENNA, September 9.—It is stated that the party in the Turkish Ministry favoring severe conditions in settling terms with the insurgents has gained the ascendancy.

BELGRADE, September 9.—A member of the Skupschina, prominent in favoring the war, has been obliged to leave his native town and come to Belgrade.

CONSTANTINOPLE, September 9.—It is said that the Porte has refused to suspend hostilities until Servia accepts its conditions for peace, which comprise the demolition of the fortresses at Belgrade and Semendria, and limitation of the Servian army to 20,000 men.

LONDON, September 11. — Dispatches from Belgrade state that the Ministers of War and Interior are visiting the army of the Drina, observing operations. If the war continues immediate and important changes are expected.

The Standard's special says the Grand Vizier will to-day acqaint the foreign embassador of the Turkish conditions of peace, the first point of which will be the new investiture of Prince Milan as a vassal of the Porte.

GREAT BRITAIN.

LONDON, September 9.—Lord Derby will receive a deputation on Monday on the Eastern question, and will probably take the opportunity of answering the criticisms made on his policy.

Mr. Gladstone addressed a meeting of his constituents on Black Heath this afternoon on the Eastern question. The weather was unfavorable, a heavy rain falling, yet 12,000 people were present to hear the Prime Minister and give him an enthusiastic reception. Mr. Gladstone said throughout his experience he had never witnessed a movement to compare with that which had started up within the last two weeks throughout England concerning the atrocities. Mr. Schuyler's report, coming from a representative of a nation the inhabitants of which we rejoice to call brethren, and from one whose personal character and trustworthiness he had taken pains to ascertain, had produced the most marked impression on his mind, and convinced him that he could no longer bear the responsibility of remaining silent. Mr. Gladstone then proceeded to show that the Turkish Government was responsible for the atrocities.

Resolutions expressive of the sense of the meeting at the Turkish atrocities were passed. Some considered that the resolutions did not express sufficient indignation.

LONDON, September 11.—A mass meeting at Dublin yesterday to protest against the Bulgarian atrocities became a demonstration against the English atrocities in 1798. One of the parading bands carried the American flag.

ITALY.

PARIS, September 9.—The Figaro publishes a telegram from Nice, under date of yesterday, the 8th, regarding a mutiny on board the United States frigate Franklin at Leghorn. The dispatch says the commander of the Franklin, to save the lives of the officers, fired with a mitrailleuse (Gatling gun) upon the mutineers, nine of whom were killed before order was restored.

LONDON, September 9.—A dispatch from Rome states the United States steamship Franklin left Spezia to-day for Villa Franca. Neither at Spezia nor at many other places in communication is anything known about the alleged mutiny on that vessel.

PARIS, September 10.—The story of a mutiny on board the United States frigate Franklin is entirely without foundation. The Franklin is now lying at Spezia.

FRANCE.

LYONS, September 9.—President MacMahon, now on a military tour, visited this city to-day, and held a reception of the authorities. The Councillors General arrived a quarter of an hour too late, and finding the reception had begun, withdrew, uttering protests, and shouting to the crowd "Vive la Republique! Vive la Amnistie!" The crowd remained passive.

EGYPT.

LONDON, September 11.—A dispatch from Cairo says it is believed that a treaty of peace between Egypt and Abyssinia will be signed on Tuesday next.

A Horse Thief Killed.

CHEYENNE, WY., September 10.—A Mexican called Pedro, who stole two horses at Sidney, was followed by the Sheriff of Cheyenne county and two men deputized at Ogallalla, to a point nine miles east of that place, and resisting arrest, was shot and killed. The Mexican fired two shots at the two deputies, slightly wounding one in the side and the ball passing through the hat of the other.

A Family Found Dead.

ST. LOUIS, September 9.—A family of Swedes, consisting of a man, his wife and a small child, were found dead to-day in an old house on the farm of May Gentry, two miles from Sedalia, Mo. The theory is the man and woman died from sickness, and that the child fell into a bucket of water after the death of the parents, as it was found drowned.

THE CHARLESTON RIOTS.

Proclamation by Gov. Chamberlin — The Public Peace to be Preserved — Conference Between Republicans and Democrats.

CHARLESTON, September 10.—Owing to the disturbed condition of the city, Gov. Chamberlain has issued the following proclamation:

Whereas information has reached me that a serious riot occurred in the city of Charleston on the night of the 6th inst., resulting in the death of one person and the wounding and killing of several more; and whereas much excitement still exists in that city, and fears are entertained that the public peace will be further disturbed;

Now, therefore, I, David H. Chamberlin, Governor of said State, do proclaim my purpose to preserve the public peace of said city by all the powers at my command, and to secure to every man, of whatever political party, the right to speak, act and vote freely and safely, without constraint or danger in the present political campaign, and I admonish all my fellow citizens again that violence begets violence, that freedom of speech and of political action are sacred rights which can never be trampled on without rousing a spirit of vengeance and retaliation. I therefore most earnestly implore all the citizens of Charleston to rely upon the law for their sole protection, and to do no act which shall not be within the sanction of the law and its officers. Especially do I discountenance and forbid the presence upon the streets of bodies of men, whether organized or not, armed with deadly weapons, or weapons or clubs of any kind, and I call upon the officers of the city and State to be prompt and vigorous in checking all such demonstrations of violence and lawlessness, and enforcing the laws for the protection of all citizens in their political rights. The spirit of political intolerance in all its forms is the direct cause which now oppresses our State, and peace and prosperity will never come until that foul spirit is finally exorcised. Every thoughtful man and every good citizen should give his utmost influence to preserve the public peace by securing perfect freedom of political action. I am now in conference with the mayor of the city and the chief constable of the State, and all measures suitable for the protection of the citizens of Charleston will be taken, and all persons who have violated or who shall hereafter violate the law will be brought to trial and punishment.

Mayor Cunningham has issued to-night a proclamation similar in tone to that of the Governor.

Sheriff Bowen, as chairman of the Republican party for Charleston county, having requested a conference with a committee of the Executive Committee of the Democratic party in Charleston, with a view to the adoption of measures for the preservation of quiet in the city, the request was acceded to, and a conference took place this evening, the Republicans present being the Mayor and Messrs. Bowen, Taft, McKinley, Bradie and Birney. The result of the conference was an expression on the part of the Republicans of an unqualified determination to prevent disorder and to discover and arrest the persons who were the aggressors in the riot of Wednesday night. In the course of the conference it was distinctly stated by the Democratic committeemen that while they were from every consideration anxious to preserve the public peace, they were resolutely determined, no matter what the cost or consequences, that the scenes of last Wednesday night shall not be repeated.

THE BOYS IN BLUE.

Reunion of the Union Veteran Association in Indianapolis—Invitation to Old Soldiers and Sailors.

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., September 10.—Arrangements are about completed for a reunion of the Union Veteran Association on the 20th and 21st, and the following invitation has been issued:

HEADQUARTERS BOYS IN BLUE,
UNION VETERAN ASSOCIATION,
DEPARTMENT OF INDIANA,
INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 9, 1876.

To the Soldiers and Sailors who Served in the Union Army and Navy During the Late War, and all Others in Sympathy with the Cause for which they Fought:

On behalf of the citizens of Indianapolis and the soldiers of Indiana, we extend to you a cordial invitation to participate in the reunion of the veterans of the nation in this city on the 20th and 21st inst. This Centennial year, with its cluster of memories, encircles periods of time in which the highest and noblest virtues of our race have been revealed in a patriotism unsurpassed by any other nation in this century of time. The best and purest feelings of our natures have been moulded into one sentiment higher than every other—loyalty to the flag. Our country has safely entrusted its keeping to her citizen soldiery in the perils of war, and they have preserved and returned it sacred and triumphant. To those veterans yet remaining to us we extend a welcome to our midst, and in the spirit that prompts the welcome to the victorious of all nations, we hail them, and bid them thrice welcome. Your presence upon this occasion is earnestly asked.

A Rancheman Besieged by Indians.

CHEYENNE, WY., September 10.—On the 8th inst. Harvey Beason, at Kane's ranche, on Pumpkin creek, near Sidney, was fired on by three Indians at short range, one of the balls passing through his chest, when he ran to the ranche, a short distance, and got his gun and returned the fire. The Indians taking refuge in a washout, drove him back into the ranche, where he sat for eighteen hours with his gun across his knees and cartridges in easy reach, determined to sell his life dearly if again attacked. Parties have gone with a conveyance from Sidney to bring him in, and it is hoped the wound may not prove fatal.

A Fatal Fray.

NEW YORK, September 9.—A terrible murder was committed this evening at Hague and Pearl streets. It appears that two gangs of young rowdies were in that neighborhood, who have frequent battles. Thomas Moore, aged twenty, belongs to one gang, and Michael McCarthy belongs to another. To-night the gangs engaged in a fight. McCarthy's gang was getting badly beaten, when he rushed into a grocery store, seized a large cheese knife, and coming out, plunged it into Moore's neck, severing an artery, and causing almost instant death. McCarthy then fled.

Cruelty to Children.

POUGHKEEPSIE, September 9.—At the instance of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, the proprietor of Murray's circus, and three children, aged fourteen, eight and four years, apprentice acrobats, were arrested to-day. Mr. Murray was subsequently released, and the children were sent to New York in care of the Society's officers.

The Oregon Wheat Crop.

SAN FRANCISCO, September 9.—A Portland (Oregon) dispatch says wheat exporters are having trouble securing grain to load vessels arriving under charter. Farmers generally will not sell for the prices now ruling. Exporters will be slow to take up more vessels under the circumstances. The price of wheat here is $1.35 alongside.

Centennial Notes.

PHILADELPHIA, September 9.—The fire and fete of the Associated Pioneers of California were the features of the Centennial Exhibition to-day. The admissions were 116,000, of which almost 100,000 were cash to the Main Exhibition and 4,500 to the live stock show.

THE charges against HAYES have very suddenly subsided, while those against TILDEN are becoming more clearly defined, and specific, daily.

TRENOR W. PARK has purchased the Emma Mine, at Sheriff's sale. It will now be determined whether that famous mine was a swindle, or the English stockholders swindled themselves by not developing it.

THE sword of OSMAN, real or imaginary, has been girded on by the new Sultan, thus completing the ceremonies attendant on his investment with regal power. It is, however, less a matter of gaining than of retaining power, that troubles Sultans nowadays.

THE growth of Republican sentiment at the North, has been regular and steady, as attested by the increase of popular majorities for the party at the successive Presidential elections. The indications are that our majority this year will be larger than ever.

CITY COUNCILS, after a summer respite, will assemble to-day and get into working trim. Business has accumulated somewhat during the interim since their last meeting, but it is to be expected that the average Councilman will come up rejuvenated in spirit and ready for any amount of work.

THE Democratic roughs of Baltimore have promptly responded to the advice of the Gazette of that city, by breaking up a Republican meeting. It was done with pistols and knives, after the most approved Democratic fashion. The effect will be that hereafter, Republicans will be prepared for such emergencies in that city.

THE pleasant weather of Saturday gave a new impetus to street life, the avenues being unusually lively on the afternoon of that day. The tendency of the weather to the coolness of fall, and the presence of something similar to the equinoctial storms, during a portion of last week served to give a dreary, sombre aspect to affairs. This, however, has passed, and by Saturday, all was bright and cheerful again.

HILL, of Georgia, writes his real sentiments in his own State, and these are that the rebellion was justifiable and right in itself, but only wrong in method. What he may means by this we do not know, unless it be that the general establishment of slavery should be reached by political trickery, rather than of war,—the latter proving a bad venture. If this means anything, it is that TILDEN is to be used in the interest of the re-establishment of slavery.

IT seems that the Christian Union, which is the exponent of the doctrine of gush, takes the same view as one of our pretended Republican dailies in this city, that TILDEN's assurance that his affidavit on his taxable income is "all right" is to be blindly accepted as evidence against the damaging facts, drawn from official records, and which are, as yet, undenied. There are those who will defend the most hardened scoundrels, on the basis of silly sentimentalism.

CARL SCHURZ, in his western tour, is producing a marked impression on the people, his addresses being received in a cordial and friendly spirit by his German friends. He takes the essential principles of the canvass under discussion, and gives a clear and complete statement of the political situation. The convincing oratory of the ex-Senator will exert a powerful influence on the canvass, and will carry many thousand German votes over to HAYES and WHEELER. One evidence that the Democracy realize this, is their regular staple of abuse against Mr. SCHURZ.

IT so happens, now that the truth has leaked out, that the terrible outrage perpetrated on Democrats in Charleston, South Carolina, turns out to have been a gentle bit of medicine entirely deserved by those people. They were trying on their old game of demanding half the time of a meeting, under threat of breaking it up, if they were refused. The Republicans were ready for them, and as they commenced firing, their fire was very effectually returned, and they were driven off. This simply means that Republicans in South Carolina intend to submit no longer to the shot gun arguments of the Democrats.

WE again refer to the waiter-girl outrage as demanding prompt and severe action by the Mayor, if his authority permits him to break them up. The rows and fights that take place in them almost nightly, certainly furnish an ample reason for breaking them up, as disorderly houses. We are well convinced that were the Mayor as earnest in this work as he should be, he could readily find the law to sustain him. These flagrantly immoral combinations are as bad as MATT MORGAN's show, and the Mayor found law enough to break that up. We urge the matter mildly, now, but will feel called upon to urge it strongly, after a time.

THE New York Tribune which from the outstart was friendly to Mr. TILDEN, and had much to say in his favor both before and after his nomination seems to be getting its eyes open. At first it ridiculed and made sport of the charge of perjury against Mr. TILDEN, but as day after day has passed away and no answer has been made to the direct charge, it has become apprehensive that that which it first affected to trial as a campaign slander, is only a slander in the fact of its terrible truth. Speaking on Saturday of this charge against TILDEN, it has this to say: "It is not the Tribune's habit to join a mob and fling charges of fraud and perjury at any one who happens to be a political opponent; but it must be remembered that this accusation of false income returns is not based on wild or irresponsible rumor. There are authentic records which to all appearance convict Mr. TILDEN of making under oath conflicting statements as to matters of fact. These apparent discrepancies may possibly be accounted for, but so far the efforts at explanation which we assume to have been volunteered by superserviceable friends are flimsy and quibbling, and no champion of Mr. TILDEN has yet ventured any comment on the fact that for nine years he made no income returns whatever. The facts as they now appear are damaging to Mr. TILDEN's name, and if he is suffering unjustly, the sooner he squarely faces them the better. Whenever he chooses to produce any satisfying evidence that his hands are clean in this matter, the Tribune will make no grudging acknowledgment of his innocence, but will cheerfully help to dissipate the clouds that have been thickening around his reputation. Now, there have been some vague accusations against Gov. HAYES, pretty plainly invented to divert attention from Mr. TILDEN's trouble, which have been gleefully displayed in large type by the Democratic press. How many of these papers will now have the honesty and courage to tell their readers that these charges are made up entirely of wind and malice?"

THE New York Times is still on TILDEN's track. It shows that it would be of little advantage to him to deny that he made an utterly fraudulent return of income, in 1862. Putting aside his gains in stock operations, it itemizes the different ascertained sources of income, which, ranging from $25,000 received from the Chicago and Alton Railroad Company, down to $1,000 received as Trustee and President of Balance Dry Dock Company, aggregates a total of $108,000. From this aggregate, deductions are made to suit the Democratic idea, that all moneys earned prior to 1862, but not paid till that year shall be deducted. The amount so allowed is $19,000. This, with the $7,118 sworn to by Mr. TILDEN leaves $81,882 as the amount of income fraudulently concealed. On this, the tax due the Government is $4,236.46. There are transactions of TILDEN, in the stock market, during 1862, which are being hunted up. He is known to have made considerable sums, that year, in stocks, and not to have lost. It is believed that his gains, in that field alone, will aggregate about $250,000, in 1862. The proofs of his perjury and swindling accumulate, and promise to become overwhelming.

IT HAS been ascertained that the French population has steadily declined, during the past six years, and this fact is causing some annoyance, not to say alarm, to the French authorities. They regard it as having a bad outlook, whether the causes be of a temporary or permanent character. From 1862 to 1872, there has been a decline of 2,000,000 in the population. Even deducting the loss by the cession to Germany of Alsace and Lorraine, and there is still a deficiency of 370,000 in the six years. In Germany, despite the large emigration to escape the war prospective, the population has steadily increased. This, with the fact of a steady increase in other countries, is offset against a decrease in France, and this excites remark. Investigation shows that the French, as a people, have been steadily declining in physical power; and this, in time, is ascribed to the exhaustion consequent upon the wars of BONAPARTE. He led the strong and thrifty to battle,—those remaining being the weak and sickly, and hence feeble portion of the population. Another reason assigned is a very singular one. Says a French writer: "Our inferiority is clearly demonstrated, and the cause is a mystery to no one; it is an inevitable consequence of the compulsory subdivision of heritages. To those who doubt this, it will be sufficient to observe that the comparative sterility of marriages is in France an evil peculiar only to those who have possessions, and does not touch those who are without heritage. Artisans, workmen, all who live from day to day, do not dread having a family; the patrimonial inheritance suffers no injury, as it would do in the cases of well-to-do families. But the decline of the French population is not the only injurious result of the forced partition of heritages. There are other evil results, such as the indefinite parcelling out of landed property and the ruin of small heritages by law expenses. These evils have become so great that Government is beginning to think of a remedy. May the secondary facts not keep out of sight the main fact of all,—the appalling sterility of the French population." This is, entirely, a very interesting subject to the French, involving their status among the nations. The loss of strength and population, means the loss of fighting power, and this, national decay and ruin.

THE REASON WHY.

Our attention is frequently called to articles published in one journal or another, criticising the editorial course of the GAZETTE on one subject or another, and suggesting a different view as best; and we are often made the subject of appeals that would be touching were they well founded. The last in this list that we have seen, is one published in a temperance paper, signed we suppose by the proper name of its author and respectable in tone. It commends what we said about the waiter girl saloons, but thinks we do not go far enough and include all saloons in one sweeping condemnation, and also make war on the license system as the source of liquor evil, and the thing that makes waiter girl saloons possible. We have seen so much of this criticism on the GAZETTE at one time and another, that we are disposed to refer to it once for all. So far as the principle of temperance is concerned we suppose we are better temperance people than many who attempt to teach us on that subject. We have been free from the drink habit, have no sympathy with the manufacture and sale of intoxicants, and would gladly see the business put away forever. If this is not a broad and sound temperance platform, we do not know what is. We also have openly and decidedly supported every temperance movement that has come before us, that we deemed timely, judicious, and feasible. We were consulted, and aided to develop the local option law, which went on the statute books a few years ago, supported the temperance people in their local option election struggle, and did our utmost to save that law from the fanaticism that ultimately succeeded in erasing it from the statute books. The editor of this paper, by invitation, canvassed the whole question of the relation of the temperance issue to politics, as involved in our Gubernatorial election last year, before the M. E. Preachers' meeting, with the result, he is confident, of confirming nearly all of that body in a determination to vote for HARTRANFT. We cannot, therefore, be accused of lack of fidelity to the temperance principle.

Where we are criticised, is both as to the waiter girl article and, generally, on what is purely a question of policy. We singled out the waiter girls for comment because, in addition to all the harm wrought by their attracting additional numbers into those saloons for drinking purposes, every girl who goes into them is sure to be despoiled of virtue. This is a fact that demands immediate attention. To offer abstract comments at such times, on the good or evil of the license system, would be worse than mockery. It is just what those who entice virtuous girls to their ruin would like. In the meantime they would go on, enticing girls to their dens, ruining them, and thus destroying the peace of families, and filling our city with prostitution and disease. It is this that we are called upon to meet, and no cant about the abstractions of temperance is worth a moment's thought, in the face of so pressing and dangerous an evil. And, let us ask here, what is our Mayor doing to suppress it?

The assumption, too, that the license system is at the root of all such evils as we are speaking of, is utterly and stupidly false. The real root of such evils is found in the depravity of human nature. Waiter girl saloons can and do exist, where liquor is not sold, but usually are associated with the sale of liquor. And the manufacture and use of liquor rests, not upon the license system, but upon the misdirected desire for stimulants. This desire is normal to the entire race, and where properly directed, is not injurious; but its misdirection is the source of the entire use of liquors as a beverage. The license system, so far from being responsible for the sale of liquor, was designed to control and regulate that sale, and keep the business within control of the laws. We know it is fashionable, of late, for certain extremists to denounce the license law, but it is really the only barrier, in the form of law, we have against the full tide of intemperance. We do not need to wait till we get a prohibitory law, in order to break up waiter girl saloons.

The simple and actual truth is, we deliberately and honestly think that the extremists in the temperance cause have defeated and destroyed all the temperance legislation we ever had in this State. We do not mean to be harsh, but such is our conviction. The Local Option law embodied all the temperance legislation possible in this State for ten years. Once secured, the only sensible policy for the temperance people, was to stand by the party that gave them that law, and that would have continued it on the statute books. It gave them prohibition in the only form in which it could be enforced, in over forty counties of this Commonwealth. The law had been enacted, at the mere request of the temperance element; yet the very next year, it turned against the Republican party, and gave the Democracy power,—and this despite the fact that there were as good temperance men on the Republican ticket as there are in the State. The same folly is repeated this year. If the course of the temperance element means anything, it is hostility to the Republicans, and affiliation with Democrats. In the national fight HAYES and WHEELR, are both pure, sober men. For Congress, here, the Temperance party is either openly affiliated with the Democracy, or secretly aiding them. Even as to the Legislature, they recognize but one Republican, and leave off the very man who at Harrisburg did more for them, during the past two winters, than all the balance of our delegation put together. And all this outrageous ingratitude and pig-headedness we are asked to endorse, because it happens to be labeled "temperance." Not much. We are for temperance, but can not be made the aiders and abettors of the Democratic party. The temperance cause, hereabouts, needs brains, moderation, toleration, and enough equipoise to know when it has a good thing, and enough gratitude and sense to know that those who give them a right law, are far more likely to maintain it, than is the Democratic party.

POLITICAL NOTES.

THE South is prepared to treat for peace on the same terms as in 1861.

"View it on whatever side we may, the Democratic canvass does look discouraging."—N. Y. Herald.

THE Baltimore Gazette threatens to oppose "Minute-men" to the Boys in Blue. That kind of talk is at least eleven years too late.

DEMOCRATIC papers are changing their tone. A fortnight ago they bragged and blustered; to-day they threaten or appeal for votes.

MR. HAYES has set Mr. Tilden an example which he can copy with great benefit to himself and the country if he has the documents handy.

THE soldiers who called for their pensions in Indianapolis in one hour the other day voted 67 for Hayes, 5 for Cooper, and 6 for Tilden. Tilden, however, thinks they were only tresspassers.

THE meeting of the Democrats next week to put a head on their ticket will be love's labor lost. If they will only wait until the 7th of November the people of the State will "put a head on it" which will be sure to stick.—Albany Journal.

DEMOCRATS who have been shouting themselves hoarse over the wickedness of political assessments by the Republicans will please take notice that their friends in San Francisco have just made a levy on every officerholder under the Municipal Government to help to carry California for Tilnen.

WE are reminded that many of the Republican party's present leaders were once Democrats—twenty odd years ago. Southey said, when reproached in his Tory old age, with having been a Republican in his youth, that he was no more ashamed of having been a Republican than he was of having been a boy.

THE New York Express has now discovered that in the July riots of '63 the Admnistration had done its best to stir up the riot and bloodshed. This is getting back pretty comfortably to the old war issues and the war feeling. It is only a step or two more to denouncing Lincoln as a tyrant seeking to establish an empire, and the war for the Union as a failure.

WILLIAM P. THOMPSON, ESQ., of Vassalboro', Maine, who has acted with the Democratic party, and was a member of the last House of Representatives, has abandoned the Democartic party and espoused the Republican cause. He takes the stump in Waldo county for Connor, Hayes and Wheeler. The intelligent men are fast leaving the rotten Democratic party.—Portland (Me.) Press.

THE Baltimore Gazette says: "Now that this infamous order of Judge Taft has given to their bloody purposes the color of law, we shall see the ballot box violated and the streets reddened with blood. The only way to prevent it is to meet force with force. We must have the State militia and 10,000 minute-men, led by the most elevated men in the State. Overwhelming force alone can prevent dreadful bloodshed at the polls."

HAS South Carolina received its "bar'l of money" already? It would seem so from the Beaufort correspondent of the Charleston News which says: "This is the first occasion that the Democratic party has had the advantage here of being financially better prepared to wage an election contest than its adversaries. The Republicans are all dead broke, and there is no money among them. Our resources this time will enable us at least to hold a hand with funds necessary to conduct the campaign with vigor."

THE London papers keep standing a head entitled "Conscience Money," under which acknowledgments are made of money returned by persons who have defrauded the revenue. Most returns of this kind we observe, are made by persons who have evaded the income-tax. The Tribune is prepared to establish a department of this discription for the benefit of Gov. Tilden. How happy the people would feel to see a paragraph to this effect: "The Secretary of the Treasury acknowledges the receipt of $100,000 from S. J. for income-tax."

WE DO not pretend to understand or explain why it is that the Republican party should on two successive occasions have entered upon a national campaign with an air of dejection, while their adversaries, who uniformly come out dejected, go in with a light heart and an assurance of victory. It may be because the Republican party has a conscience, and the memory of its sins and shortcomings weighs upon its mind. But without extenuating the faults of the Republican party, we know the worst of them, and they look like mole-hills beside the mountains of iniquity of which the Democrats have been guilty, and of which they have not repented.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

THE Nation, which has hitherto been unable to think anything ill of Reformer Tilden, finds the income-tax business too much for it, and makes this clean breast of it: "This is not a case of general allegation, or vague suspicion, or of complicated transactions. There are two apparently contradictory sworn statements of his own relating to matters of fact, and he owes it to the public of all parties to show if he can that they do not mean what they seem to mean. Failing this, it will be absurd to talk of his election as likely to prove a reform movement, or as anything but an indication of the low moral tone of the majority of the voters. The defences hitherto put forward in this matter by his supporters have been for the most part quibbles, for which, however, it would be unfair as yet to hold him responsible."

A Prospective Tour for Sammy.

It is pleasant to pause in the midst of this campaign of unparalleled vindictiveness and mendacity, and dwell upon the statement that Uncle Sammy will start next November on his long-deferred trip to Asia Minor. It would be worth 25 cents an hour to see him sit down and weep by the waters of Bablyon.—Brooklyn Argus.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

FREE, YET FORGING THEIR OWN CHAINS. By C. M. Cornwall. Published by Dodd, Mead & Co., New York, and for sale in Pittsburgh by S. A. Clarke & Co., Wood street.

This is a story of life among the mining regions. It is intended to illustrate the folly of Trade's Unions. It is a powerfully written and interesting story.

THE MARINER'S PROGRESS; or Captain Christian's voyage in the good ship "Glad Tidings" to the "Promised Land." By Duncan M'Gregor. Published by Robert Carter & Bros., New York, and for sale in Pittsburgh by S. A. Clarke & Co., Wood street.

This book is modeled after the "Pilgrim's Progress." It is very cleverly done, and may be read with profit, after the great production of the Tinker of Bedford.

ILLUSTRATED LESSONS IN OUR LANGUAGE; or how to write and speak correctly. Designed to teach English grammar without its technicalities, by G. P. Quackenbos, LL. D. Published by D. Appleton & Co., New York, and for sale in Pittsburgh by S. A. Clarke & Co., Wood street.

Text books, having the element of object teaching in them, and all designed to simplify the educational process, are multiplying. This little work is one of the best we have seen, and commends itself to teachers.

OVID. By the Rev. Alfred Church, M. A., Head Master of King Edward VI.'s School. Published by J. B. Lippincott & Co., Philadelphia, and for sale in Pittsburgh by R. S. Davis & Co.

The story of Ovid's life and his works is well told in this small volume. The writer writes with a pure, critical cultured taste, and his estimate of the writings and character of the poet commends itself to the intelligent reader. For the general reader who has not the time to critically study the subject, this small volume will be valuable.

THE FIRST CENTURY OF THE REPUBLIC; A Review of American Progress. Published by Harper & Bros. For sale in Pittsburgh by R. S. Davis & Co., corner Fifth avenue and Wood street.

This book is made up of articles written for Harper's Monthly. There are seventeen papers, in which some of the leading writers and thinkers of the day treat of the progress of our country—each writer treating of a special branch.

CHARLEY ROSS, THE KIDNAPPED CHILD; His Father's Story, Containing a Full and Complete Account of the Abduction of Charley Brewster Ross, from the House of His Parents in Germantown, with the Pursuit of the Abductors and their Tragic Death, &c. By Christian K. Ross. Published by John E. Potter & Co., Philadelphia. For sale in Pittsburgh by R. S. Davis & Co.

The outlines of this story are familiar to the readers of the daily newspapers; but here is the story in detail with all the incidental facts. Two years have passed away since the child was kidnapped, and yet the public have not lost interest in the sad and mysterious affair. The book will serve to awaken the interest afresh. It is somewhat crudely written, but the facts are sufficient to engage the reader's attention.

OLD GREEK LIFE. By J. P. Mahaffy, A. M., Professor of Ancient History in the University of London. Published by D. Appleton & Co., New York, and for sale in Pittsburgh by R. S. Davis & Co.

Within the compass of an ordinary magazine article in this brochure are given all the leading features of life among the Greeks in the olden time. It is compact, clear and instructive.

LOGIC. By N. Stanley Johns, R. S. Published by D. Appleton & Co., New York, and for sale in Pittsburgh by R. S. Davis & C.

This is one of the "Science Primers" series. The scope and purpose of logic are well set forth, and the term in all its bearings is closely defined and illustrated. It is a small book which can be read in an hour.

DANIEL DERONDA. By George Eliot. Vol. 2.

This is the concluding volume. The reader can now have the full story before him. It is one of the books of the century.

HISTORICAL STUDIES. By Eugene Lawrence. Published by Harper & Bro.'s, New York, and for sale in Pittsburgh by R. S. Davis & Co., corner Fifth avenue and Wood street.

This volume is a compilation of articles written for Harper's Magazine, and which attracted some attention. They are chiefly in reference to the aims of the Roman Catholic Church, and the volume is a timely contribution to literature on that subject.

CUSTER'S FAMILY IN CAMP

A Pretty Picture of Home Life on the Frontier.

I asked myself to what this remarkable social atmosphere was due. What influence it was that held a band of men, hundreds of miles from the restraints of civilized life, up to its highest requirements of decorum and polite intercourse. How was it that there was such perfect freedom and safety for sweet-faced girls, with long golden braids or flying chestnut curls, and souls as pure as their broad foreheads, in such surroundings? I found my reply in Mrs. Custer. It was her presence alone that made all this possible. She followed the General through all his campaigns, her constant aim being to make life pleasant for her husband and for his command. General Custer's officers were remarkably attached to him; to a man they revered and admired his wife. She was with him not only in the idleness of summer camp-life, when the days passed in a dolce far niente resembling a holiday picnic; but in ruder and more dangerous enterprises she was, as far as he would permit, his constant companion. In response to the bugle-call "Boots and saddles," given at any time of the night and announcing a sudden mount and forced march, she needed only five minutes for the completion of her toilet. Eight minutes included the luxury ol a bath.

As I looked at this cultivated and remarkable little lady, so quietly unassuming, who > ——"walked within a heated glare,

> Her presence making cooler air,"

I did not wonder at the frankly-expressed opinion of one of the General's staff, a gentleman whose high social opportunities and education had never conquered his natioinal brogue, and who was suspected of exaggerating it, out of patriotic pride, who preferred conversing with Mrs. Custer to dancing attendance on the young girls, and defended his preference thus:

"I don't loike young leddies; they are so thrifling and frivolous. I prefer the socoiety of married women."

General Custer's staff was a peculiarly cosmopopolitan one. It contained representatives from many of the European nations. Colonel Coode was the grandson of an English lord. He was a magnificently handsome man; though a trifle of an exquisite, realizing the description of an English officer given by the author of under "Two Flags." He was graceful in figure, with most excessive dark eyes, a delicately aquiline nose, and chestnut side-whiskers over a foot in length. In reference to his English nationality and his popularity as a lady's man, the Colonel had received the soubriquet of "The Queen's Own," an appellation to which he was in no way averse, but always received with a gratified smile. Captain De Rudio was an Italian, with a complicated political history, full of plots and intrigues, condemnation to death and hairbreadth escapes from French and Italian despotism. His wife, a quiet English lady, interested us much; and it was altogether delightful to hear him descant on liberrte. "The country," he would say, in his delicious broken English, "the country is nothing. It is ze principle!" Col. Keogh, of Irish birth, had served before our war as one of our Papal Guards. Lieutenant Mathey was a Frenchman. Taciturn Captain McIntosh, with the sad, expressive face and the rare intelligence, had a dash of Indian blood in his veins. The most representative American was, perhaps, Colonel Tom Custer, in his buckskin suit, broad-brimmed hat, and crimson necktie, with long, fluttering ends—gallant Colonel Tom, who possessed more medals for rebel flags taken in our late war than any man in his department.—Lizzie W. Champney in the Independent.

THE EMPRESS OF INDIA.

The Imposing Character of a Prospective Ceremony.

Delhi is to be made the scene of a grand ceremony on the first day of next year in order to signalize the fact that her Majesty has assumed the title of Empress of India. The ceremony will be held at Delhi to denote that her Majesty is the heir of the Mogul Empire, the inheritor alike of its dignities, powers and responsibilities. The assemblage will represent all the ruling authorities both of British India and the native States. The Governors, Lieutenant Governors and heads of administrations from all parts of the Queen's India dominions will meet the Viceroy, and with them will come "those princes, chiefs and nobles in whose persons," as Lord Lytton says, "the antiquity of the past is associated with the prosperity of the future."

To the brilliant throng the Viceroy will explain that the assumption of the imperial title is intended to mark Her Majesty's interest in her great dependency, and her confidence in the loyalty and affection of its people and princes. Nor will Delhi be the only place at which the change will be thus signalized. The Viceroy anticipates public rejoicings and appropriate demonstrations of loyalty throughout India, and he will forthwith issue such orders in council as may be suitable to the "historical importance" of the occasion.

For the next five months there will be ceaseless preparations to make the occasion impressive by means of all the symbols of power and civilization, and by all the pomp to be found in West and East. Great masses of English and native soldiers, the subordinate rulers of the British Empire, a throng of Indian princes glittering with jewels and surrounded by an army of gorgeous retainers, a vast crowd of the Hindoo and the Mohammedan people will form such a spectacle as Europe presented only in the days of mediaeval chivalry.

Krupp's Cannon Factory.

The establishment of Krupp, the great gun maker, extends over seven hundred acres and employs 12,000 workmen. It is traversed by a railway five miles in length, and a tramway of two miles. Its various parts are connected by lines of telegraph wires and not less than thirty stations. The annual sum paid in wages amounted some years ago to $400,000; it is now probably much greater. Considerable skill is required in the manipulation of the steel so largely used at Essen. When a good workman is found it is desirable to retain him; and so, as far as possible, it is made worth his while to remain when once he has been employed. A pension fund has been established to which every one employed on the works must subscribe a small fraction of his wages. To the money thus collected, the proprietor adds a sum equal to half of that subscribed by the men.

Latest Advices Concerning Money and Stock Matters.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
MONDAY, September 11, 1876.

Saturday had the usual active rush for money for current purposes, but nothing aside from this in the way of extraordinary business at the banks. The activity reported for Friday continued through Saturday. It is a great relief from the stupidity and dullness so universal a week ago, and for many weeks previous. Orders for currency from country correspondents begin to assume fair proportions, and paper for discount is also sent forward in reasonable amounts. City operators make occasional calls at the banks; but the mercantile classes generally still appear to have about all the funds they need. To customers discount rates are, as heretofore, 8@10 per cent.; but with approved collaterals on large loans some of the banks would still concede 1@2 per cent. below even the lower figure. Of course money is abundant far beyond the immediate necessities of legitimate business. In general business the hopeful tone, previously referred to, still continues.

FACTS ABOUT BANKS.

There are in the United States at the present time 2,118 national banks, 907 chartered State banks, and 666 savings banks. Very few people would suppose there were so many State banks as we have reported, or that the savings banks were so many less than the State banks. The facts are, that, in New England, the national banks are far more numerous in proportion to the territory than in any other part of the country. At the South and West they are located at much wider distances from each other, as a general thing. And in New England savings banks are more abundant than in other parts of the country. New York State still has a very large number of State banking institutions. In New England the sway of the National banking law has been nigh complete. New York to-day has 91 State banks, with a capital of over twenty-eight millions. There have frequently been disputes regarding the date of the origin of the State banking system in this country, and the ages of some of our first-established banks. We place upon record some facts in these premises which may be fully relied upon. The first bank established in the United States was the Bank of North America, of Philadelphia, which was started in 1782; the second, the Bank of New York, June, 1784; the third, the Massachusetts Bank, of Boston, which started one month later in the same year. The charter of the Massachusetts was signed by Samuel Adams, President of the Senate, and John Hancock, "Gov'r of ye Commonwealth," and the first committee of the subscribers for the Massachusetts Bank were William Phillips, Isaac Smith, Jonathan Mason, Thomas Russell, John Lowell and Stephen Higginson. This bank commenced business with a capital of $300,000, and opened at once accounts with the Bank of North America, Philadelphia, and the Bank of New York, and these accounts are continued to the present moment.

THE FEELING IN THE EAST.

The indications on 'Change yesterday and in business circles generally all pointed to increased activity. The low prices to which nearly all kinds of merchandise have been reduced gives confidence in the maintenance of values, though the disposition manifested to carry small stocks restricts the amount of the current transactions. The same reason, however, makes business constant, as stocks require more frequent replenishing, and dealers in dry goods and all articles of general distribution look for a full and improving demand as the season advances. The export movement in domestic products is fair, that for corn being particularly brisk. The gradual improvement in trade circles and the activity in stocks have made a slightly increased demand for money, which, with the call for accommodation from the interior and the South, promises to cut down the surplus funds materially when the crops begin to move. There is, moreover, a marked increase in the local demand for funds, owing to the extension of trade and industry and the opening of channels for employment of capital which have been so long closed. Still, money is abundant, and can be had at 5@6 per cent. anywhere when the lender is satisfied as to the security. The rest of the market wears an easy look.—Phila. North-American of Saturday.

THEN AND NOW.

We have stated that the United States debt at the present time is $2,099,439,344. These figures seem large enough, but they are nothing to what they would have been had not Grant suddenly brought the great rebellion to an end by his decisive movements, and they are very much smaller that they were at the end of the war. July 1, 1866, the Secretary of the Treasury reported the debt of the country at $2,773,286,178.69. Our interest account then amounted to the yearly sum of $143,781,591; to-day our yearly interest is $77,000,000. Our annual expenses in 1868, exclusive of interest account, amounted to $229,915,088 against $180,000,000 the very last fiscal year.

THE BUSINESS OUTLOOK.

There can be no doubt that the business outlook East and West is very encouraging. Long extracts lie upon our table from the New York Herald, the Boston Journal, Advertiser and Herald, all of which it would be pleasant to publish, did space permit. They all take a cheery, hopeful view of business prospects.

NEW YORK, September 9, 1876.

Money 1½@2; prime mercantile paper 4@6. The customs receipts were $251,000. The Assistant Treasurer disbursed $56,000. The clearings were $25,000,000. Sterling was heavy at 485@486. Gold opened at 109⅞, and closed at 110⅛, the two extremes of the day. The market was firm in closing sales. The borrowing rates were 1, 1½@2 per cent. Loans were also made flat, and at 1½ and 1 per cent. for currency.

The following is the bank statement:

Loans, increase	$2,607,690
Specie, increase	636,200
Legal tenders, decrease	251,640
Deposits, increase	247,650
Circulation, decrease	137,600
Reserve, decrease	234,525

Governments were dull and strong. In railroad bonds this afternoon New Jersey Central consolidated firsts sold at 90@90½, and consolidated 80. Chicago & Northwestern consolidated gold coupons sold up to 94, the highest price of the week. State bonds were quiet, steady and nominal. The stock market to-day was in the main irregular, but late in the afternoon became generally firm, with an advance in some shares. New Jersey Central rose from 31½ to 32⅞. Delaware, Lackawanna & Western advanced to 79⅛ and closed at 78⅞. A dash was made against Lake Shore and Michigan Central on rumors that the ticket agents had reduced fares, but it turned out that the reduction was only on Centennial business. Lake Shore fell off to 51⅜ and Michigan Central to 40⅜, closing at 51⅞ and 40⅝ respectively. St. Paul preferred declined to 65⅜, but closed at 65⅞. The market closed dull, unsettled and feverish. The transactions at the Stock Exchange aggregated 128,000 shares, of which 1,200 were Lake Shore, 16,400 Pacific Mail, 7,000 St. Pauls, 4,300 Western Union, $4,000 Delaware, Lackawanna & Western, 19,000 New Jersey Central, and 7,500 Michigan Central.

The official report of the Lake Shore Company for the year ending June 30 shows that the total earnings were $14,993,975, against $15,413,858 the previous year. This is regarded in itself an excellent showing, considering the railroad war. Yet by a reduction of operating expenses in the same time the net earnings are in excess of the previous year.

Condition of the Markets at Home and Abroad.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
SATURDAY, September 9, 1876.

The leading merchandise markets were moderately active to-day, but devoid of anything new or important. The grain markets are firmer with rather more inquiry, and there was a stronger feeling in the hog products, under the influence of yesterday's advices from Cincinnati and Chicago. Sugars continue offish, while Coffee is gaining strength. Business in produce circles continues fair, but there has been no special change in values since the date of our last report.

APPLES—We continue to quote in a jobbing way at $1a1,50 ℔ bbl for fair to choice.

BUTTER—Sales of prime to choice solid packed, in firkins and tubs, 20a23c; do. roll, 23a25; creamery, 28a30c.

BROOM CORN—Sales of Hurl Corn in small lots, upon arrival, at prices ranging from 7a8½c, as to quality. Short or medium brush in fair stock and demand light; sales in a small way at 5¾a6½c, as to quality and quantity. Insiding and inferior Corn very dull. Some lots offered at 4½—find no sale. Crooked in light demand at 3a3½c.

BERRIES—Are about out of season; we continue to quote at 50a75c per bucket.

CHEESE—The market is firm at the recent advance, with an increasing demand; prime Ohio Factory, 9a9½c to the wholesale trade, and 10a10½ in a jobbing way.

EGGS—We continue to quote fresh stock at 18a19c. With increased receipts the market is easier.

FLOUR—There is a continued steady local trade in old standard brands. New flours are coming forward but both dealers and consumers still prefer the old, hence it commands a premium of 25a50c per bbl over the new.

Red winter wheat flours	$6,00a6,50 ℔ bbl.

Spring wheat flours	5,75a6,25 "

GROCERIES—Coffee is still reported firm, with an increasing demand, but there has been no change in prices here for several days. Sugar, as noted in our last report, is weak with refined goods off ¼ of a cent ℔ ℔ within the past ten days.

PITTSBURGH LIVE STOCK MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
SATURDAY September 9, 1876.

ARRIVALS.

Following shows the aggregate receipts for the week, as well as those of preceding week also:

	This week.	Last week.
Cattle	430 cars.	413 cars.
Hogs	147 "	96 "
Sheep	92 "	68 "
Total	669 "	577 "

CATTLE.

Of the 430 cars reported for the past week, 290 cars were through and 140 cars local, against 209 cars of through, and 204 cars of local last week. Sales, 2,622 head; last week, 2,579 head.

The supply was comparatively light this week, and with an increased demand, which was stimulated by favorable advices from both Philadelphia and New York, the market opened up strong, was active all the way through, and that, too, at an advance of 25a35c ℔ cwt on all grades of butcher cattle. Cattle sold as fast as they arrived, in some instances before they were unloaded or were out of the chutes, and with an active competition—the like of which we have not had for many a day—sellers had no difficulty in obtaining the advance to which reference has been made, and the supply, especially of good shipping grades, was considerably short of the demand. Quite a number of shippers, it is said, were unable to get as many cattle as they wanted; some got scarcely any.

For stock cattle there was also a very fair demand but no improvement in prices; the market for stockers does not fluctuate with shipping grades, for the reason that there are none bought for the regular eastern markets. So far as we could learn, there was not a single sale of Texas cattle during the week.

As stated in our report of Thursday, it is feared that the very decided improvement will cause increased shipments and an oversupply the coming week, and, if so, there will undoubtedly be a reaction.

The shipments to the English market now amount to more than 1,000 per week (all good and prime cattle,) and this drain upon our supplies is likely to increase during the next six months, and must materially strengthen the New York, and, indirectly, our market. There is no question but the outlook as regards the cattle trade is looking brighter, although no very marked advance can reasonably be expected this year.

QUOTATIONS.

Extra 1,300a1,400 Steers	5,50a5,75
Prime 1,400a1,500 steers	5,25a5,50
Good 1,200a1,300 steers	4,75a5,00

Bulls, Cows and Stags	2,50a3,25

SHEEP.

The "run," although a little larger than that of last week was by no means large, and with a light supply and an average demand, the market was better for all grades, excepting very common. Prices as compared with last week ruled from 15 to 25c per cwt higher, the advance being greater on the medium than the best grades, as there was more inquiry for the former than the latter. This is not often the case; the best grades nearly always bring better prices relatively than common or medium, but it was the exception not the rule this week. Stock ewes not much inquired for.

QUOTATIONS.

Extra 95a100 lbs	5,15a5,35
Good 85a90 lbs	4,85a5,00
Good 75a80 lbs	4,50a4,75

Indianas, according to quality	3,75a5,25
Jersey Ewes per head	$1,75a2,75
Lambs, 40a60 lbs	4,00a5,25

HOGS.

The supply was light, and with considerable inquiry, the market hardened and prices were advanced 15a25c per cwt as compared with Thursday. The general tone of the market, however, continues weak, the advance to-day being regarded as a "spurt" occasioned by a temporary scarcity, and it is generally believed that prices will rule lower this fall than for some years.

WEEKLY REVIEW.

Business in the raw article has been comparatively quiet during the week under review, which may be attributed to a general disposition on the operators to await the report of the guagers appointed to ascertain the stock in tanks of pipe line companies. It is very evident that this report, which it is expected will be made public to-day, will have considerable influence on the immediate future of the market. If it shows a large stock, lower prices will no doubt prevail, but, if on the other hand, the stock should turn out less than generally expected, not only will current rates be maintained, but a still further appreciation is not improbable. We mention this to show the general position of the market, and while there has been no important change in prices during the week, the indications generally are favorable to the producer; the consumption continues large, while production, according to the most reliable advices from the source of supply, is not any more than holding its own, and is not much over one-half what it was a couple of years ago.

The Refined market has also been rather quiet during the past week, and while resales of contracts have been made at a decline, holders, in first hands, have maintained a strong front, refusing to make any concessions in order to effect sales, and but little doubt is entertained of their ultimate success, as the outlook almost every way is in their favor. Stocks in Europe are reported comparatively light, while the consumption is steadily and rapidly increasing; exporters, notwithstanding they have been disposed to hold off recently, will want a large quantity between this and the close of the year, and it is estimated that the home trade will take 10,000 bbls per day during this and next month.

Since the above was written we have received the report of the guagers, to which reference has been made, and it gives the stock of merchantable oil at 3,161,384 barrels. This, we believe, does not include the oil in private tanks outside of the producing regions.

RECEIPTS AND SHIPMENTS.

Receipts crude by rail for the week 24,833 bbls; by rail and Conduit pipe line from January 1st to date, 1,234,040 bbls, against 741,428 do same time last year. Shipments of refined eastward for the week, 24,796 bbls; January 1st to date, 620,950 bbls; same time last year, 455,346 bbls. Shipments to Richmond to date, 108,600 bbls, making a total of 729,550 bbls to all points from January up to date. No shipments have been made to Richmond recently, in consequence of the suspension of river navigation to Huntington.

CRUDE.

Notwithstanding the report of the guagers shows a larger stock than was generally expected, the market held its own to-day; it dropped a little at the opening, but subsequently recovered and closed steady at $3,87½ for United and $3,92½ for shipment.

REFINED.

Was also firmer, but unchanged. Philadelphia and Baltimore held firmly at 26c, with 25½c bid, equal to about 22¼a22½ on cars here to go east. Price to home trade unchanged at 23c.

OIL BARRELS.

There has been a fair trade during the past week, but no change in prices; $1,30 for countries, and $1,45a1,50 for city make, as to size.

Among the Iron Merchants.

A Bulletin reporter, who has been making some inquiries among the iron trade as to the actual condition of that branch of business here, furnishes the following memoranda:

A large dealer in iron stated that the condition of affairs could scarcely be much worse; for two years and a half or three years past it had yielded little or no profit to the manufacturers; now, however, he said, we are gradually using up the surplus stock, and, although not much, if any, improvement was expected this fall, he thought that next year a basis would be formed by which uniform prices would be secured. He did not know but a change in the present high tariff might prove beneficial. Looking to the future, he thought there was a well grounded hope that such a change will take place. On steel rails the duty is $28 a ton and on iron rails, $15 to $18, both in gold. The rails can be bought here for $51 or $54 a ton; in England the cost is £7 sterling a ton; or say $35; now add to this $28 duty in gold, freight and other expenses, and there is a great difference in the cost between the imported and the American manufactured article. There are no importations at present. The official returns show that in 1874, for seven months ending July 5th, there were imported of iron and steel rails, 72,631 tons; but for the same period in 1875 there were only 17,439 tons, and for the same period this year there were only 131 tons imported. As regards the outlook for business, he thought it was altogether a financial question. If the railroad companies receive encouragement, of course they will buy the material. He thought we are at the turning point, and that business must soon begin to improve.

A leading iron firm in Wall street, who deal mainly in Bethlehem rails, remarked that business had been, and still is, exceedingly backward. They do not expect any more orders for rails this fall; of course they were doing some business, but it was not of any consequence. Next year, however, he looked for an improvement. He had the satisfaction of knowing that the old English iron rails were pretty well cleared out, for they had been an incubus ever since the panic. They were difficult to dispose of even at a very low figure. He had just heard that 2,000 tons had been sold at New Orleans for $35 a ton; the cost of these originally could not be less than $45 a ton at tide-water. "We do not need any imports either of iron or steel rails," he said, and he did not consider that the duty was at all too high. "We must do without them," he remarked, "and use our own manufacture. We can make all we want and use what is made, and the market is not likely to be overstocked."

One effect of the improving condition of the business is to increase the manufacture of poor iron, and some railroad companies will only purchase the inferior quality, thus really offering a premium for its production. But this is not the case with the main lines. "In fact so many are changing from the iron to steel rails," he said, "that a large quantity of the former is thrown upon the market and there is consequently a decrease in the consumption of pig iron, for this old iron is used instead." It is employed for many purposes, our informant stated—for bridges, agriculture implements, &c., and the exports of these are considerable, and are increasing. "These are about all in the shape of iron that we do export," he said. There are a few rails exported to the West Indes and South America, but the quantity was so small as to be of no importance. It would be some years he thought before we shall begin to send iron and steel rails to foreign countries. "The iron interest," said our informant, "is only second in importance to the coal trade, but it has ceased for the present at least to be a money-making investment. The companies, even the largest of them, pay no dividends, still they are all perfectly solvent and sound, and pay the running expenses; but orders have been so scarce that I believe should an order be received, even by the oldest of them, that would pay only one per cent profit, they would accept it. A great number of furnaces are out of blast. I can not state how many are at work at the present time, but in the Lehigh region, I am certain that not one-fourth are in blast." He thought, however, that we had touched bottom, and had no doubt that for ten years to come they would do a better business than they had ever done before. He had no idea that the breaking up of the coal combination would at all affect the work at the furnaces. We may get coal a dollar or so a ton cheaper for domestic purposes, but the furnaces being located in the coal region the rates were comparatively low, and as a general thing uniform. There has been a considerable reduction in the cost of rails the past few years.

THE WOOL TRADE.

Boston.

The wool market has had a quieter week than has been noticed for a couple of months. The sales reported aggregate large, but to a very considerable extent they are the actual transactions of the previous two or three weeks but now reported, as the lots had been sorted out, accepted and delivered. The market is again well supplied with fleeces, the receipts continuing quite large, but, while the buyers have been plenty, the stock has not been graded out in such a way as to give an inquirer a thorough idea of just what he might be bidding upon, hence no inconsiderable business stands over until the coming week. The tone of the market has the appearance to a buyer of being well strained, but on the part of holders there is a very general conviction that the present basis is firm for the year out, with more than even chances for an advance later on.

Just at the moment the styles which are more decidedly working upward are combing and delaines, the former of which in good straight lots, light conditioned, has been asking since our last an advance to 50c. The increasing popularity of the American dress goods and shawls is flattering to both these classes of wools, and right along for the past two months the yarn makers and cassimere people have met a steady competition from these women's-fabric spinners. With a holding out of the present demand these seems to be a fair prospect that combing wools, ere the month ends, will touch above 50c.

Fine fleeces, XXX and above are rather more quiet, with very little offering at the current quotations, 43½@44c. The sales of XX and above note a slight concession of buyers, but on the advance the transactions have been light, while the firmness of the market is such that every little advantage works out into buoyancy.

It is to be expected that any sort of a vigorous canvassing will terminate a momentary buoyant start in an advance. This is the natural order of all merchandise, and, when buyers concede the gain, there is so much of an advantage secured to re-enact the programme. Such is the daily proceeding in this market, only the grades of wool vary on which the manœuvres work; hence it is that one after another of the distinguishable fleeces works towards high prices. The buyers have a spasmodic appetite, to-day wanting X fleeces, next day seeking combing, again investing in Californias, and then shifting off to fine wools, and, as the demands vary, the quotations shift, keeping the appearance of values more or less irregular, as witness the sales on combings and on delaines or on X fleeces and the asking prices to fine.

Receipts for the week 9,680 bales domestic and no bales foreign.

Sales for the week foot up about 2,659,600 pounds domestic and 74,800 pounds foreign.

There have been the following sales of fleece wools: 160,000 lbs on p. t.; 100,000 lbs XX at 42c; 100,000 lbs do. on p. t.; 50,000 lbs do. at 43c; 20,000 lbs do. and above at 44c; 70,000 lbs Northern Ohio X on p. t., 6,000 lbs Ohio X at 38c; 30,000 lbs do. at 39c; 80,000 lbs do. at 34c; 3,000 lbs No. 2 fleece at 36c; 15,000 lbs medium at 37c; 7,000 lbs do. at 35c; 2,000 lbs X Mich. at 34½c; 100,000 lbs do. at 35c; 14,000 lbs do. 40½c; 8,000 lbs do at 44c; 5,000 lbs do. at 35c; 4,000 lbs fine N. [By Telegraph.]

BOSTON, September 9.—Wool was quite active and firm and prices remain unchanged, but with an upward tendency. Most of the manufacturers are pretty well stocked and the present demand cannot continue any length of time.

New York.

Holders generally are well satisfied with the position of affairs, and the improvement on the market for domestic wools of all kinds is sustained apparently without much difficulty. A slight speculative element has crept into the market within a couple of weeks past, and is lending its aid to support and stimulate values, though the natural strength of the position is thought to be sufficient to retain the advantage in sellers' favor. There is some difficulty in separating the sales and ascertaining what proportion are to buyers for stock and those who operate for actual consumption, but the indications rather point to much greater caution among manufacturers in making their purchases. The condition of trade and of values on the general run of goods is scarcely in full consonance with the improvement on the raw material, and it is deemed prudent to work a little circumspectly until the indications are more positively encouraging. Statistically, the position of wool is a strong one, and the cost can scarcely be considered high as compared with the average range of former seasons, but these are considerations having much less influency with the consumer than heretofore. The policy now is to run mills only on a pretty well assured margin for profit, and to gauge production as closely to actual distributive ability as circumstances will admit. During the past week there has been rather less doing, but the movement is still very fair, and quite a full attendance of buyers was on the market to day. Foreign wools steady, with a little more doing in carpet grades.

We note sales of 50,000 lbs ungraded Ohio at 40c; 25,000 lbs XX Ohio at 42c; 50,000 lbs X and Michigan at 38c; 20,000 lbs Michigan at 34c; 10,000 lbs X and XX Wisconsin at 35@35½c; 5,000 lbs Michigan delaine at 40c; 4,000 lbs Ohio do at 42c; 10,000 lbs Western do at 40@42c; 7,000 lbs X Ohio, 25,000 lbs XX do, 47,000 lbs Michigan X and above, 25,000 lbs unwashed Western fleeces, 5,000 lbs super pulled, 7,000 lbs No. 1 do, 31 bags do, 30 lambss' do, 70 do short extra, 182 do old extra, on private terms; 50,000 lbs Western Texas at 15@17c; 2,000 lbs do at 15c; 60,000 lbs do part at 61c; 15,000 lbs Eastern do 22@24c; 250 bales Eastern do at 21@24c; 52,000 lbs Texas, 16,000 lbs Eastern do, 15,000 lbs do do, 3,000 lbs Virginia, on private terms; 200,000 lbs spring California at 21@25c; 100,000 do 23@23½c; 50,000 lbs do at 20@25c; 10,000 lbs fall California at 14c; 10,000 lbs do, 25,000 lbs Oregon, 26,000 lbs do on private terms; 50,000 lbs do at 24@27c; 12,500 lbs Oregon combing at 32c; 4,000 lbs do delaine at 33c; 340 bales washed Donskoi, 100 bales unwashed do, 75,000 lbs Cape, 132 bales Australian on private terms.—Bulletin.

RIVER NEWS.

State of the Rivers, Movements of Steamboats, &c.

THE river commenced to rise very unexpectedly on Saturday night, and up to last evening it had risen almost six feet, the marks indicating almost 7 feet. Weather yesterday was cloudy and warm with considerable rain, and the prospects were favorable for more water.

THE Kanawha has been raised, and is being decked at Middleport.

THE Jas. Gilmore broke her shaft near the mouth of the Wabash.

THE Coal Bluff went down to Shousetown to bring up the hull of the Josh Cook.

CAPT. Hegler's new boat is being hurried along and will soon be ready to launch.

FANNY MOORE is the name of Capt. Jno. Woodburn's new steamer, built at Madison.

THE wrecker Charlie Hill has arrived at Evansville with the wreck of the Pat Cleburne.

THE crews of the Ark and Fearless went down on the Hope yesterday to bring up their boats.

THE Robert E. Lee took into New Orleans last trip 134 bales of the Mary Bell's burnt cotton.

CAPTAIN John Hendricks is talking of building another boat, similar to, but larger than the Lizzie.

THE owners of the Colossal have paid the judgment of $2,000 against her and one-half the costs, and the boat has been released.

LAURA ISABEL RYLAND, aged 12 years, daughter of Mr. Ryland, river editor of the St. Louis Republican, died on Wednesday night.

CAPT. KNOX & SON, of Harmar, have a contract to furnish a new hull for the steamer Mink, running between McConnellsville and Zanesville.

ONE of Fisher, Humpert & Co.'s barges, containing about 8,000 bu of coal, was sunk at their landing, up Licking, during Wednesday night.

COMMODORE Wm. J. Kountz sold at St. Louis, on Thursday, the steamers Fontenelle Gen. Meade and Peninah, to R. H. Wilder of St. Paul, and Jno. H. Charles of Sioux City. Terms private. The Fontenelle leaves for Sioux City atonce.

A NUMBER of towboats were making preparations to depart with tows of coal, among others the following: Tom Rees, Joe Stone, Baltic, Charley McDonald, Coal Valley, Sam Brown, Reindeer, Charley Brown and Hornet.

THE Little Rock Herald says: The Ella Hughes will sail, this trip, with a slight change in her officers, Col. Jones taking leave to accept a similar position on the Thompson Dean, and Mr. Ben. Field, who has served so well as second clerk, will take the desk, and supervise some other man on the landing.

THE steamer Peninah arrived in Yankton, from Ft. Benton, Saturday week, bringing down 200 tons freight and about 30 passengers. In the way down she was fired into by Indians near Glass Bluffs; about 14 miles below Ft. Bedford. Several shots were fired, the bullets from their rifles passing entirely through the cabin. Nobody was hit by the missiles.

COMODORE Davidson's new line of passenger packets, established between St. Louis and Keokuk, are proving a great success. The boats are full of people both ways, and they are having a splendid time. These boats are running in opposition to the railroads, and they are making them feel what it is to undertake to dictate rates and terms to people.

A LATE New Orleans paper says: Business on the levee was tolerably fair on Saturday. A goodly number of packets took their leave with good trips. Doubtless from this forward business will have an upward tendency; new cotton has already made its appearance during the past couple of weeks in small quantities, while during the incoming week a few hundred bales of the fleecy article may be seen on the levee.

A ST. LOUIS dispatch under date of Sept. 8, The Fontenelle and C. K. Peck leave for the Upper Missouri to-morrow, light. Com. W. J. Kountz left for Pittsburgh, to-night, and will give his immediate attention to the construction of a new light-draft boat. The Peninah and Gen. Meade are considered the best Upper Missouri boats ever built, but the Commodore thinks he can improve on them a little.

CAPT. SILAS HEMENWAY bought two iron-hull propellers, built by same parties as Ariadne, and took them from Baltimore to the St. Johns river in Florida. He commands the Gazelle, which runs 20 miles per hour. Capt. Si. has a mail contract from Jacksonville to a point distant 210 miles, and carries passengers all the time at a good rate of fare. Exclusively of the cuisine, the Gazelle's daily running expenses amount to only $15. The propellers were built at Buffalo.

THE Cincinnati Commercial, referring to the death of Capt. F. Y. Batchelor, says: Captain Batchelor was born in Steubenville, Ohio, in 1818, and followed the river for nearly forty years. He served through all positions, from that of cabin boy and steward to commander, having commanded the W. I. Maclay, Emma Duncan, Darling, Swallow, Edinburg, Ohio No. 4, and the Mollie Ebert, in the Pittsburgh, Cincinnati and St. Louis and New Orleans trades. The Mollie Ebert, the last steamer he commanded, was burned at Pittsburgh in the spring of 1875, and in the fall of that year he became associated with Mr. George W. Keyes, of Ironton, and Charles Regneir, formerly a clerk on the river, as proprietors of the Walnut Street House, of which he was the senior proprietor at the time of his death. He was noted for his big heart and manly bearing. He leaves a widow, one married daughter, Mrs. Dr. Harvey, U. S. A., and one minor daughter and son, and four brothers to mourn his loss. One of the latter, Mr. Lon. Batchelor, United States Local Inspector at Pittsburgh, is lying dangerously ill, with Captain Stant. J. Batchelor by his bedside. Captain Charles W. Batchelor and Captain James W. Batchelor arrived here Friday.

Drs. Jordan and Davieson

It is too well known that hundreds, nay thousands suffer from the effects of early indiscretion and seek in vain for relief, for none but the educated physician who has made these subjects a specialty is likely to succeed in restoring the patient to health and strength. Their important Medical Work may be had from their office, No. 2 Eighth street, on receipt of 25 cents, and also as usual from their head establishment, 1625 Filbert street, Philadelphia. Hours of consultation from 10 A. M. to 2 P. M., and from 5 P. M. to 8 P. M. Sundays from 10 A. M. to 2 P. M. Every case is strictly confidential. d&S

HOME NEWS.

Parties who do not receive the GAZETTE by 7 A. M., are requested to notify the office, and the tardiness will be corrected at once.

The probabilities for to-day are northeast to northwest winds, rising barometer, stationary or lower temperature, light rain, followed by partly cloudy or clearing weather.

Journalistic.

Major Russell Errett retires to-day from the chief editorial chair of the Commercial, and will now devote his entire time to an active prosecution of the political campaign. To fill the vacancy thus created, Mr. Wm. Anderson is promoted from the position of city editor to that of an editorial writer.

A Case of Destitution.

A woman, with three children, one of which was in a dying condition, was yesterday afternoon found in a state of destitution at the corner of Fulton street and Wylie avenue. The police authorities took charge of her and furnished her with lodgings, food and medical attention for her little ones.

A Policeman Assaulted.

About eleven o'clock Saturday evening officer John Bennett, of the Second District, was standing at the corner of Fifth avenue and Tunnel street, when he was approached from behind by Pat. Megraw, who struck Bennett a murderous blow over the head with a handybilly, knocking him senseless. Megraw then fled, but was subsequently arrested by Lieut. Harrison and taken to the Central Station, where he awaits a hearing on next Monday (to-day week). Bennett's injuries are very serious, Dr. Cable last evening not being able to say whether or not he would recover.

Protection Requested.

The attention of the Mayor is called to the fact that since the organization of the Hayes and Wheeler club on Seventh avenue, the boys, aided and abetted by their parents, are in the habit of stoning the wigwam and club, to the danger and annoyance both of the club and residents of the avenue. If the Mayor does not take action to prevent a repetition of this dastardly outrage the club will do so themselves, as they are determined to defend themselves at all hazards. A timely interference may prevent bloodshed and perhaps injury to both property and person.

FIFTH WARD.

An Aquatic Challenge.

Billy Scharff at last emerges from his lengthy retirement. He is out in a card in which he challenges Eph. Morris or any other man in the country except Henry Coulter to row him a five mile race on the upper Monongahela course for from $500 to $1,000 a side. He fixes to-morrow evening as the time for meeting and signing articles of agreement. Morris has not yet returned home from Philadelphia, but when he does it is probable he will accept.

The two mile single scull race on Saturday afternoon between Dick Johnson and James Hutchinson, of the Pittsburgh Barge Club, for a supper, was won by Johnson in 15:24. His opponent was only four seconds behind him. It was a very close contest.

Political Notes.

The T. M. Bayne marching club, Capt., McCombs commanding, H. C. Wilson First Lieutenant, made its initial appearance on Saturday evening and presented a very fine display. The uniform consists of an imitation of the old continental army dress. Andrew Miller, Esq., on behalf of Mrs. Kirker, of the Fourth ward, Allegheny, presented the club with a very handsome flag. Henry Fraiser received the bunting on behalf of the club with some very happily chosen remarks. The club is wholly composed of working men and voters.

Hon. B. C. Christy, Geo. Moore and Col. J. S. Haymaker addressed a Republican indoor meeting at Sewickley on Saturday evening.

A public meeting will be held at Braddocks Fields to-morrow evening.

A very large meeting was held on Saturday at Sandy Creek, in Plum township. Addresses were delivered by H. A. Collier, Major Russell Errett and Hon. John Newmeyer.

The Allegheny Boys in Blue hold a regular meeting to-morrow evening at Wilson's Hall, in the Diamond.

The pole raised by the Republicans at the corner of Main and Chestnut streets, Allegheny, is, almost incredible as it may seem, 227 feet high. The flag attached to it is forty feet long by twenty-five feet wide.

PETTY BURGLARIES.

Operations in the Diamond Saturday Night.

Several petty burglaries occurred in the Diamond on Saturday night.

The saddlery store of E. Frey, at the corner of Ferry and Liberty streets, was broken into and a set of gold mounted harness, worth $75 taken.

The eating saloon of Samuel Shaner, No. 22 Diamond, was entered and a lot of bread, pies, &c., and a silver spoon stolen.

Steurgnast's saloon, in the Diamond, was also entered, and some wines and liquors carried away. No clue to the thieves, and no arrests.

SHOT IN THE GROIN.

Pistol Accident in Allegheny.

The careless handling of a fire-arm yesterday on Wilkins street, Allegheny, resulted in the accidental shooting of a gentleman, but happily the hurt inflicted is not a fatal one. A man who had just returned from the Black Hills was standing in the door of his dwelling examining his revolver, when it was discharged in his hands, the ball striking his neighbor, Mr. Wm. Loeffler, in the groin, inflicting a very painful wound. Dr. Gilliford was called and extracted the ball.

A COAL FLOOD.

The Monongahela River Coming up Rapidly.

After having a very poor river for a considerable length of time, the prospects now are good for a coal boat rise. Dispatches from Brownsville last night state that there is a fourteen foot stage of water there, and rising. At 12 o'clock last night the guage here indicated 7¼ feet in the channel and rapidly rising.

A towboat, whose name we did not ascertain, attempted to go under the Smithfield street bridge about seven o'clock last evening, but in the effort tore off her pilot house.

There is quite a large quantity of coal awaiting shipment, and the rise will be joyfully hailed by the coal men.

"MENTAL ABERRATION."

A Prominent Politician Supposed to be a Victim to Political Excitement.

A telegraphic dispatch received through the Associated Press last night from Erie, states that Hon. Morrow B. Lowry, the Democratic candidate for State Senator, in this District, returned home yesterday from a stumping tour throuth the State and is now suffering from mental aberration.

The sufferer is well known here and has a wide acquaintance throughout the State. He has been an active and prominent politician for years and has been quite frequently honored with office by the people of his district. He started into the canvass a few weeks ago quite friskily and it is probable that the excitement, over-work and loss of rest incidental to a "stumping tour" have brought about a result which even his bitterest political opponent will deplore.

BASE BALL.

Local Notes of the National Game.

The Wheeling Standards were badly waxed by the Alleghenys on Saturday, at Union Park, suffering defeat by a score of 14 to 2. The home club played an almost faultless game. The score by innings is as follows:

Innings	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
Alleghenys	2	0	2	0	0	6	2	0	2	—14

The Indianapolis and Allegheny clubs play this afternoon.

The Alleghenys, in order to recompense the public for the loss sustained at the sham game last Thursday, are endeavoring to arrange with the Neshannocks a game for Wednesday, to which the admittance shall be free. The Alleghenys propose to pay all expenses, together with the railroad fare and hotel bills of the Neshannocks. This is doing the square thing, and will go a great ways toward reinstating the club in public favor and esteem.

TRANSLATING A MARTYR.

Novel Religious Ceremony on the South Side.

A novel ceremony, consisting in the translation of the remains of a martyr, took place yesterday at the church of St. Paul of the Cross, on the South Side, which is under the charge of the Passionist Fathers. Some months ago the remains of St. Victoria, virgin and martyr, were received from Ferintino, Italy, and their translation was celebrated yesterday afternoon with appropriate ceremonies, Bishop Tuigg presiding. A mass was sung and a sermon delivered in German by Rev. F. Aloysius in the morning at St. Michael's church, corner of Fifteenth and Pius streets. A life size figure of St. Victoria, made by an Italian artist at Rome, was unveiled in the sanctuary during mass. In the afternoon at three o'clock a procession consisting of religious societies and children conveyed the remains from St. Michael's to St. Paul's church. The relics were carried by four deacons and placed in a magnificent shrine prepared for their reception. The services were brought to an end by the delivery of another sermon by Father Aloysius, but this time he spoke in English.

Court Brevities

WILLIAM E. FULTON, Esq., was on motion of S. A. McClung, Esq., duly qualified and admitted to practice in the several courts of this county.

JUDGE EWING thinks Solomen's wisdom would scarcely enable a man to decide some of the desertion cases that have been heard during this court.

THE Controller's statement of the receipts and expenditures of the several county offices for the month of August shows a gain of $979.81 to the county.

THE contract for printing and binding, blotters and duplicates for the county was awarded, Saturday, to Wm. P. Bennett at $268. The highest bid was $500.

EDWARD G. DUBARRY was appointed Judge of Elections of the Fourth precinct, Sixteenth ward, in place of Frank Hatfield, who has removed from the district.

THE contract for supplying the Court House with coal was awarded to Crouthers & Musgrave, successors to N. J. Bigley, at 5 3-5 cents per bushel. There were twelve bids, the highest being 6½ cents, and the lowest 5 3-5. The contract is for twenty thousand bushels, more or less.

"PRETTY WAITER GIRLS."

A Judicial Decision Interesting in this Locality.

The matter of the employment of pretty waiter girls in beer saloons is attracting some attention in Pittsburgh just now, and the law in the case is being overhauled. In Ohio a similar interest prevails, and the matter has gotten into the courts. A case where the principle was involved came up before Judge Bingham, and that learned functionary has just decided that the "pretty waiter girl ordinance" of Columbus, in that State, is void. He holds that "the right of one's labor, and to be employed in any lawful occupation, is an inalienable right, protected by the Constitution; that ale, beer or porter-houses, where the sales are made within the limits of the law, are lawful under the legislation of Ohio; that women as well as men have the right, primarily, to engage in any lawful occupation or employment, subject to the condition that it shall not tend to immorality, vice or crime; and there is no reason why the employment of respectable females to wait upon customers in beer and porter-houses, kept in a lawful and ordinary manner, should tend to bad morals, vice or crime more than the employment of males; and, as the ordinance enjoins and prohibits all women, under all circumstances, from being employed in such places, it undertakes to inhibit the inalienable right of women, as well as men, to labor at whatever lawful occupations their inclinations and interests may lead them to engage in."

In the light of the agitation of the subject in Pittsburgh, this decision is interesting. The value of the decision to the saloon-keepers is considerably modified by the saving clause the Judge puts in it: "Provided it does not tend to immorality, vice or crime." That is the real question at issue. Our judiciary, as yet, has not been called upon to elucidate the law on the subject, but it is contended by many that if it had been, the result under our ordinance would have been the reverse of Judge Bingham's view.

METHODIST CONFERENCE.

Fourth Day—Reports of Committees—Church Union, &c.

The Conference opened Saturday morning with half an hour religious service. Several members presented credentials and took seats.

The report from the Committee on Boundaries, uniting Philipsburg and Brookville in one charge was adopted.

The Committee on Sunday Schools made a partial report. The Schools are doing well.

The Committee on College Interests reported, refering particularly to Adrian College, located at Adrian, Michigan. The report sets forth that the College is in good condition, has a competent Faculty, a Theological Department, over a hundred thousand dollars endowment, with good hope of adding fifty thousand more this year. The inducements to young men and women, who desire an education are fully equal at Adrian to any first class college in the land and it is believed the expenses are less than any other. Rev. Walker, College Agent, was present and urged all present to send their sons and daughters and friends to Adrain.

The Committee on Obituaries reported a suitable paper in reference to the departure of Z. Ragan, D. D., which occurred in November 1875. He was a cultured, able minister of the Gospel for over half a century, served as army chaplain for several years, sustaining that relation when he died. He was a genial man, a reliable friend, respected and beloved by all who knew him. He was upwards of seventy years old when he died.

The Committee on Church Union reported endorsing the action of the late Union Commission of the Methodist and Methodist Protestant churches, and advising the election of seven ministers and seven laymen as representatives to a convention to be held in Baltimore in May, 1877. The report was adopted unanimously, and the following brethren were then elected as representatives:

Ministers—W. Collier, J. Scott, J. Cowl, A. Clark, T. H. Colhouer, P. T. Laishley, G. G. Westfall.

Laymen—T. Pierpont, J. J. Robinson, F. H. Collier, J. S. Dennison, A. Harper, S. J. Cox, G. W. Pongue.

Rev. J. J. White, fraternal messenger from the Ohio Conference was introduced, and voted an honorary seat. Adjourned.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The first business of the afternoon was the election of the following alternates:

Ministers—H. Palmer, J. H. Hull and D. Jones.

Laymen—W. J. Troth, J. H. Clafey and J. J. Gillespie.

The hour having arrived for the conference to hear from the fraternal visitors from other conferences, the Committee on Fraternal Relations introduced Rev. W. C. Ames, of Maryland Conference, of the Methodist Protestant church, who responded in an earnest feeling fraternal address in behalf of himself and the conference. It was an able address, closing with a powerful appeal in favor of the organic union of the two churches.

Rev. S. B. Tredwell was next introduced, and delivered a very interesting fraternal address, assuring the conference that the Maryland Conference is ready for union, and anxiously waiting the wedding day in May, 1877.

Dr. P. T. Laishley responded and introduced Rev. J. J. White, from Ohio Conference of which he is a member though for a time serving a church in Brooklyn N. Y. He brings greetings from his conference.

C. R. Stillwagon and J. M. Hughes were appointed a committee on unfinished business.

The committee on Ministerial education reported that interest of the church in good condition, and doing a good work and urged all to aid the cause.

Thomas Colhouer, son of President Colhouer was referred to the faculty of instruction for advice with reference to his going to Adrian College.

The Committee on Home Extension reported in part, showing a heavy deficiency.

A letter, written by Z. Ragan, D. D., soon after last Conference, was read before Conference and ordered filed. Also, a small book, with money collected by him for general Church interests, ordered paid over to the Adrian College endowment fund.

After some announcements Conference adjourned.

THE EXPOSITION.

Saturday's Balloon Ascension—Slave Cabin Concerts.

The spectators at the Exposition on Saturday evening exceeded in number by far the attendance of any previous night except the one immediately preceding, when the wedding was the grand attraction. Captive balloon ascensions were made during the greater part of the afternoon in the presence of a large crowd. At five o'clock a free ascension was made by Prof. Gilbert and his wife. They landed at Mansfield, on the Panhandle railroad. Notwithstanding Mrs. Gilbert is the wife of such an accomplished æronaut, it was the first time she ever accompanied him on a voyage in the air. When asked by an old Scotch lady at Mansfield if she wasn't "afear'd," she assured her to the contrary, adding that she had some little acquaintance with and confidence in the æronaut. To-morrow and Wednesday evenings slave cabin concerts will be given by the Tennesseeans, and they should prove inducements sufficient to draw large audiences on both occasions. The management deserve great credit for the enterprise displayed in procuring and devising so many attractions, which, though supplementary, add so considerably to the interest of the Exposition.

The piano recitations on Monday and Thursday afternoons by Prof. Gittings, have proved so popular that they will be continued until the close of the session. His programme of selections for this afternoon is as follows:

1. Quickstep, The gallant Brigade; Weingarten.
2. Overture, L'Espoir De L Alsace; Herman.
3. Waltz, Fleur D Alsace; Stiener.
4. Potpourri, from the Huguenots; Myerbeer.
5. Polka, Apolo Straleh; arranged by N. Young.

CUT IN THE SIDE.

Knifing on Liberty Street on Saturday Night.

About six o'clock on Saturday evening Samuel P. Hibler, who resides at No. 25 Main street, Allegheny, was standing on Liberty street, in front of the Rush House, when he was accosted by Robert Talland, who was accompanied by several other men, and requested to treat them to liquor. Hibler replied that he had no money, and even if he had been burthened with cash it is doubtful whether he would have complied with such an unceremonious petition, particularly as he was a tot. l stranger to those who asked such a favor. Without saying another word Talland stabbed him in the left side, about an inch and a half below the heart, with a large pocket-knife, but fortunately it did not penetrate deep enough to inflict serious injury. Talland walked away and it was a couple of minutes before Hibler discovered that he was hurt. The latter went home and last evening the Allegheny police were informed of the affair. Detectives Bowden and Miller and officer McIntyre at once proceeded to Talland's home, near Lacock street, adjacent to the junction of the West Penn and Fort Wayne railroads, and finding him there took him into custody. He will doubtless have a hearing to-day before Acting Mayor Neillie.

It is an Accomplished fact that the Cook, Son & Jenkins almost daily excursions for the week to come bid fair to depopulate not only the city but the neighboring towns. Depot, Grant and Water streets, every day this week excepting Monday and Saturday, and on Monday the 18th at 8:30 A. M.

ENCOURAGING SIGNS.

The Prospects for a Good Fall Trade.

The improvement in business, of which we have noted many signs, evidently continues. Better prices, a larger demand, and a more hopeful feeling are noticed at Boston. Comparison of grain receipts and shipments shows a very remarkable gain at Baltimore, and, with improvement in other branches of trade, encourages the business men of that city. Philadelphia rejoices in a traffic which is still, as it has been for months, somewhat larger than that of corresponding periods last year. Buffalo reports a marked improvement toward the close of August in grain rates by lake and canal, although the receipts for the month were small. Pittsburgh reports a sudden upward start in bank clearings. New Orleans, notwithstanding a considerable loss in grain receipts, rejoices in very large crops of cotton and sugar. St. Louis closes the cotton year with receipts nearly double those of any year preceding, and has gained fairly in cattle and in quantity of grain moved this year, though in some other branches of business loss is noted. Chicago is moving a very large grain crop, though at low prices.

In this city there is a slow but unmistakable improvement. Transactions are larger, dealers more hopeful, and in some cases a slight improvement in price already answers the increased demand. The Clearing-house exchanges since August 1, have approached more nearly to those of 1875 than in any preceding period this year. In view of the fact that prices are still more than ten per cent. lower than in August, 1875, the fact that the clearings are only 7 1-2 per cent. smaller indicates an increase in the quantities exchanged. The same indication, which has the peculiar merit of showing, not what men hope in one branch of trade or another, but what they have actually done, points to a still greater improvement at Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, where the clearings for August, 1876, are larger than for August, 1875, and to an improvement in quantities exchanged at Boston, where the decline in clearings is only 4¼ per cent. In each of the Western cities the decrease has been much greater; in Cincinnati 4¼, in St. Louis 15, and in Chicago over 20 per cent., compared with the transactions of August last year. This may in part be due to the very low price of grain, but it is very probable that the exceedingly low rates of westward freight have enabled dealers in this city, Boston, Philadelphia and Baltimore to capture a considerable part of the business usually done at this season through the chief distributing cities of the West.

When the coal combination broke down it was generally predicted that a more confident feeling would be likely to appear, not in the Stock Exchange, but in the many branches of manufacture which depend so largely upon anthracite for power or fuel, and upon which, in turn, the prosperity of Eastern cities so largely depends. This anticipation has been fully justified. The low prices realized in the great coal sale were disenheartening to operators and miners, who had become used to the fictitious rates maintained by the monopoly. But the news was cheering to hundreds of manufacturers and thousands of operatives, and this change has doubtless contributed materially to the marked improvement in manufactures and trade reported by the New England papers. It is important to observe, however, that there is no reason to look for a speculative rise of prices. Production will revive, we may hope, but only because ability to produce at lower cost has invited a revival of consumption. Business will improve, not spasmodically, but slowly and steadily, if present indications do not deceive. We are on the road to better times because we are getting rid of the fictions and the burdens of the past, and earning a solid prosperity by economy and accumulation of capital.—N. Y. Tribune.

A Little Incident on a Sound Steamer.

Hall's well known Boston Brass Band and Orchestra, says a letter to the Taunton Gazette, is divided between the Bristol and Providence, and every evening gives an enjoyable concert of popular music, which adds much to the pleasures of the voyage by this route. In one of the listening groups this evening was a very voluble young lady, whose frequent allusions to "Dear Vassar" revealed the boarding-house graduate. In the appreciative bush which followed the exquisite performance of a Strauss waltz, our wanderer from the classic shades broke forth thusly: "Ah, how those gradually fading scintillations of melody will haunt the soul in the weird hour of midnight, long after the delicious instrumentality itself has become engulfed in the murky realms of mysterious silence!" This voluntary was followed by a painful suspense, suddenly broken by the ejaculation of a gentleman from the inland, who evidently considered himself addressed, and out of the depths of his honest heart replied: "Yaas, indeed, but don't you love tew hear that little Dutchman bear his heft on that air trombone?" He concluded, and looked around for approval with the air of one who had done his duty. A half-suppressed round of laughter came from the group, the Vassar beauty sought solitude in a sullen silence, and a portly gentleman with a brown wig (who had been unremitting in his attentions to a lady with a surprising rosy complexion, and remarkable frankness of speech), winked at our inland friend, when both immediately went aft, and their places knew them no more.

Without Baggage.

A middle-aged maiden from a neighboring county came to the city on one of the hot days of last week to visit old acquaintances on the West Side. She looked robust, and her cheeks assumed even a rubier hue than in her palmy days, and it was evident something more than rouge, for the perspiration which rolled down her cheek failed to make the least impression upon it. She brought no baggage with her, although she was going to stay a fortnight or more. She said she didn't want to be bothered with it. Yet during her sojourn she displayed a bountiful wardrobe. She received the attentions of an anxious widower in a beautiful "mourning silk," and played croquet with more youthful gentlemen in one of those chaste, elegant dresses (made a century ago) of cambric elaborately figured with beautiful peacocks. And then when washing days came round, her accomplishments didn't hinder her being useful, and she helped her hostess at the washtubs in a calico as plain as that of a Quakeress. After she returned home, it came to light that she wore all of her clothing together on her person when she came to the city, which explains the mystery of her ruby complexion and a monstrous bustle which attracted universal attention.—Norwich (Ct.) Bulletin.

An Explanation Demanded.

The Augusta mule, that had been ailing for several months and was finally killed about six weeks ago by being struck with two bolts of lightning, got up day before yesterday, and ambling painfully into the office of the Augusta paper, demanded the name of the editor who had started that infamous lie about his death.

—"At this stage of the tenth round," says a reporter of the Goss-Allen fight, "the wife of a farmer in the neighborhood, a tall, angular woman, dressed in black, and carrying a black silk sun umbrella, made her appearance at the northeast corner of the ring, and wanted to see the fight. Eph. Holland, the referee, immediately stopped the sparring, and invited both pugilists to go up and shake hands with the 'lady.' They smilingly did this, and three cheers were proposed for the first woman who ever saw prize a fight. They were given, with the pugilists joining in. The woman stayed until the end of the fight."

The Minnesota Robbers.

ST. PAUL, September 10.—The latest information from the pursuit of the Northfield robbers is that they have been run out of the woods at Lake Elysian and across the bridge toward Waterville. Squads of men sent in various directions headed them off. A special train leaves here this evening on the St. Paul & Sioux City road, carying the Chief of Police and twenty-five or thirty picked men. Hundreds of men are surrounding the country in which the robbers are, and it does not seem possible for them to escape. Hazen, a detective in the employ of the American Express Company, sent here from Cincinnati, indentifies the two dead men by photographs as Charley Pitts and Bill Caldwell. He says also that the light haired man wounded is undoubtedly Frank James. There is no mistake about this being the famous gang operating in Missouri, and if any of them are lucky enough to escape, they will hereafter give Minnesota a wide birth.

SAN FRANCISCO, September 10.—A Victoria dispatch says the main land has presented an address to Earl Dufferin, expressing joy at the failure of the Carnavorin terms. The Colonist to-day significantly remarks that the quickest way out of the railway difficulty would be to separate the island from the main land, and leave each section to work out its own destiny under a distinct Government.

Accident at a Pole Raising.

CINCINNATI, September 9.—The Gazette's Lancaster (Ohio) special says the Republicans were raising a pole 250 feet high this evening, when the rope broke and the pole fell, killing Charles Dunkle, George Fink and Charles Hoffman, and wounding several others.

—The September breezes have brought home a large number of residents from places of summer resort, and the opening of the schools required the presence of those families who wisely decided that it was best for their children to begin work when the term begins. Those who have quietly staid at home during the season and enjoyed city comforts feel duly grateful for the sympathy of friends just home again from cramped-up quarters by seaside or mountain-top, and take a kind of grim satisfaction in the many stories of discomfort, miserable food and exceptional heat that mingled with enthusiastic admiration for the grand mountain scenery, picturesque Arcadian scenes, and sublime ocean music they left behind. The truth is that, with short excursions now and then during the summer months, the family that stays in the city is much better off than that which cramps itself up in the uncomfortable rooms of a watering-place hotel, keeps late hours and eats indigestible food.
